Party Gras

For the first ever, a Mardi Gras-style parade opened a Pony Tails World Series in Bay St. Louis on Friday evening at the City's Sports Complex. Top photo is the team from Mena, Arkansas, representing their home state and below, the Bay St. Louis All-stars. There were twelve floats courtesy of the Waveland Civic Association taking the 11-12-year old champs from 11 states and the Bay St. Louis All-stars from the Sports Complex to the J.D. McCullough Stadium, home of the Bay High Tigers, for the opening ceremonies.

It was not only a new experience for more than 100 eleven- and 12-year-old Girls Fast Pitch All-stars from 11 states - and their coaches, parents, relatives and friends visiting Bay St. Louis - but a first-ever Pony Tails Mardi Gras Parade to open a Dixie World Series.

Three cited for selling fake cocaine

Another suspect tried to escape authorities by cab

The Hancock County Sheriff Department's Narcotics Division, acting on an anonymous tip of drug activity in the parking area of Our Shopping Center, Highway 90 at Waveland Avenue, Waveland, on Wednesday, arrested one person and charged him with sale of a controlled substance, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

"At approximately 2 p.m. on July 30, an apparent drug transaction was observed by Narcotics Agents. Agents intercepted the suspects and confirmed the transaction had taken place, however the substance transferred was of a counterfeit substance," Garber's report said.

"One suspect was charged with sale of a counterfeit substance, and three others in the vehicle with disorderly conduct, with each receiving a misdemeanor citation."

A few hours later, Zacharias Resawn Nichols, 18, of 579 Easterbrook St., Bay St. Louis, was arrested and charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (crack cocaine), disorderly conduct and resisting arrest by flight, Garber

It took firefighters only about 15 or 20 minutes to control a fire at the Lakeshore Body Shop off of Lower Bay Rd. on Thursday. The exact cause of the fire, which caused damage in the office area only, has not been determined, said Fire Marshal Brian Adam. No one was injured, but one man was examined and released at the scene because he had inhaled smoked. Also responding to the fire were East Hancock, West Hancock, Clermont Harbor, and BaySide volunteer fire departments, Waveland Fire Department, AMR, and Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Bay police sue for lost holidays

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

A group of Bay St. Louis police officers has filed suit against the city and the civil service commission saying police are losing their paid holidays.

Hannah, Joseph F. Kepfer III, Anthony E. Piazza and H. Matthew Carver are listed as plaintiffs in the suit, which was filed by attorney James Bailey Halliday last month in Hancock Circuit Court.

Boaters needed for coastal cleanup

Calling all boaters! The Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force is searching for volunteers with boats to aid in the island portion of the 15th Annual Mississippi Coastal Cleanup to be held from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 20.

Private boaters are needed for cleanup of Horn Island, Petit Bois Island, East Ship Island, Deer Island and the west end and southern tip of Cat Island. Boaters must sign up in advance to participate. To volunteer for Cat, Horn, Petit Bois and East Ship islands call Faye Walmsley at 875-9057, ext. 114. For Deer Island call Susan Perkins at 374-5022, ext.

5062. Volunteers will be supplied with trash bags, data cards, pencils, latex gloves and a free canvas beach tote provided by Chevron Pascagoula Refinery. Following the cleanup, volunteers must show their tote as a pass for a free lunch of hamburgers, chicken sandwiches, potato chips and Coca-Cola products compliments of Outback Steakhouse, at its restaurant in Gulfport, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. only the day of the event.

Volunteers under age 21 must have their parents sign a registration form, available on-line at the Mississippi Coastal Cleanup Web site, www.masgc.org/cleanup, and submit it prior to the cleanup. Children 12 and under are reminded that they must wear a life jacket if they are cleaning the island from a boat under 26 feet in length.

The Mississippi Coastal Cleanup is sponsored by the Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force, which is made up of representatives from BFI; Chevron Pascagoula Refinery; Disposal Inc.; Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve; Gulf Islands National Seashore; Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; Hancock Insurance; Harrison County Sand Beach Department;

Jackson County Solid Waste; Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi Air National Guard; Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium; Mississippi Department of Marine Resources; Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College; Mississippi State University Coastal Research & Extension Center; National Marine Fisheries Service; Naval Construction Battalion Center; Navel Station Pascagoula; Office of Congressman Gene Taylor; Office of the Mississippi Secretary of State; Outback Steakhouse and Sea Coast Echo.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Don't forget to vote

Tuesday is a very important day for Mississippians, as qualified electors will go to the polls and vote in their respective primary elections.

Just about every elected position in the state and local level will be voted on in the primaries.

This is in preparation for the general election on Nov. 4 when primary winners will go against each other and in some instances against Independent candidates to represent us for the next four years.

Such offices as governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, state treasurer, highway commissioner, state senator, house of representatives, sheriff, board of supervisors, justice court judges, constables, superintendent of education, tax assessor/collector, chancery clerk, and all races in between will be voted on Tuesday in the Democratic and Republican Primaries in Hancock County.

There will probably be a few run-offs which are scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 26.

Remember, the Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

One of the most important things for voters to know is the fact that there have been many changes made in district lines due to redistricting.

There are two fewer voting precincts and two new positions, that is a new Justice Court Judge and Constable seat in Hancock County.

It is important for voters to know the district they are in and the location of their voting precinct.

If you are doubtful, find out before election day, as there have been some changes of sorts for about 75 percent of the voters in the county.

Voting is very important. You can help by making sure your neighbors and friends have transportation to the polls too.

All say this has been a very quiet election, so remind your acquaintances that Tuesday is primary election day.

Be sure to vote Tuesday!

Do not forget the Hancock County Classic, Dixie Girls Ponytail World Series continues at the Bay St. Louis Sports Complex on Athletic Drive.

There are six games scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. this afternoon.

Best of luck to all of the teams in the World Series and I am sure there will be lots of folks cheering on the Bay St. Louis team.

Be sure to give our visitors to the area a good welcome too.

I hope to see you at the games.

It was good to be at the Hancock County Tourism and Development Bureau's announcement of the new "Brand" name for Hancock County on Wednesday evening.

I think it is very good to have identity for our county and I really like the "Mississippi's West Coast-Hancock County" as our identification.

You will be hearing and seeing more about our "Brand" name in the future.

Beyond Casinos

I will be in Tunica County soon to officially open the new Tunica Airport.

As most Mississippians know, Tunica County is one of the handful of Mississippi counties where citizens allow legalized gaming.

No matter what one's opinion of gaming, one cannot deny that it has helped make Tunica County a much different place than it was decades ago, when the infamous "Sugar Ditch" was known worldwide as America's poorest spot.

Yet, history teaches Mississippians to be wary of putting all of our economic eggs in a single basket, lest we risk a return to "Sugar Ditch." This is why projects like Tunica Airport and other infrastructure initiatives are so important.

To date, this project has received tens of millions in federal funding which Senator Cochran and I helped secure from the Congress.

This airport is important because, like any piece of transportation infrastructure, it can help Tunica County and the Delta diversify and grow its economy, moving beyond any single high-profile industry like gaming or even agriculture.

Up until the War Between the States and for generations afterward, the Delta economy and that of Mississippi as a whole was largely dependent on a single product - cotton. When King Cotton began to wane, Mississippians took a big economic hit.

Cotton is still with us, but we have long since learned the lessons of depending too much on a lone product or service as an economic foundation.

Like most of you, I want to see the newfound prosperity in Tunica County and beyond continue and multiply. Tunica Airport and projects like it can help ensure this outcome.

Airports and roads are the basic building blocks for any economy. Companies need roads and airports to deliver their goods, access their suppliers, and provide for their own managers to travel to and from their facilities.

Technicalities

By State Auditor
Phil Bryant
COUNTIES

Q Does a board of supervisors have authority to establish a quarterly budget allocation for the chancery clerk's office?

A No. Sections 19-25-13 and 27-1-9 provide for a board of supervisors to establish quarterly budget allocations for the sheriff, tax collector, and tax assessor, but the board's authority would not extend to establishing a quarterly budget allocation for the office of the chancery clerk. (Attorney General's opinion to Crook dated November 1, 2002)

Q May a justice court judge impose jail cost to be assessed against a defendant on a per day basis?

A No. Section 25-7-25 provides for the costs and fees that a justice court judge may charge. There is no provision for a justice court judge to charge a jail cost as a cost of court for each day that a defendant is incarcerated. (Attorney General's opinion to Nowak dated October 25, 2002)

Q Can a chancery clerk pay constable fees sent from the justice court without board of supervisors approval?

A No. The board of supervisors authorizes payment of constable's fees through the claims docket. (Attorney General's opinion to Fanner dated October 25, 2002)

Q Can a county enter into a contract which waives rights, binds to arbitration, waives damages, or other limiting provisions?

A No. The state and its political subdivisions are governed by constitutional constraints, including the prohibition against diminishing or relinquishing an obligation or claim held or owed by the state as set forth in Miss. Const. Art. 4, Section 100. (Attorney General's opinion to Chamberlin dated October 18, 2002)

Q What is the deadline for expenditures of fees earned in 2002 by chancery and circuit clerks?

A All expenditures of fees earned in 2002 by chancery and circuit clerks must be paid no later than December 31, 2002. ($9-1-43)

Q From what source of funds may the tax assessor and/or his assistants be paid additional compensation for appraisal certifications?

A Section 27-3-52(3) clearly requires that they "shall be paid out of the common county fund from the proceeds of the one (1) mill ad valorem tax as provided in Section 27-39-329" which is predicated on the assumption that all the necessary requirements of Section 27-39-329 have been fulfilled. # Prayer Walk set Aug. 10 in county

On Sunday, Aug. 10 at 3 p.m., churches in North Hancock County will sponsor the Hancock County Public Schools Prayer Walk.

This is the third year for this annual event which brings together Christians of many denominations to pray over the schools in the county.

Bayou Talla Fellowship Church, 18555 Hwy. 43 W in Kiln, will be the host church for the brief prayer rally which begins at 3 p.m.

From there the prayer teams will go to the various schools and the administration building to pray for protection for teachers, administrators, students, and parents.

Since the prayer walk began three years ago there has been a marked decline in teen suicides, vandalism, drug trafficking, and campus violence. Pastors from all areas and denominations are encouraged to participate.

Teachers, administrators, parents, and students are invited to come and pray over the beginning school year.

For additional information, contact Betsy Smith or Kathy Davis at 228-255-1118.

Taylor announces NASA Fellowship

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor announced last week that University of Southern Mississippi -Gulf Park faculty member James Miller, Ph.D., has been selected to participate in the NASA Faculty Fellowship Program (NFFP).

Dr. Miller will participate in the program at Stennis Space Center. NFFP provides summer research experience for faculty in the areas related to aeronautics and space research. This is a nation wide program meant to provide an exchange of ideas between faculty and NASA employee's while allowing faculty to gain valuable experience that will enrich their teaching practices.

"Congratulations to Dr. Miller and USM for receiving this honor. Dr. Miller is helping to strengthen the credentials of an already well respected faculty at USM. I am sure this program will be mutually beneficial and further the relationship between USM and Stennis," said Taylor.

The program funding will total $604,141. Dr. Miller can be contacted at 228-865-4531.

Democratic Primary August 5th

Over the past several months I have tried to contact everyone personally. If for some reason I haven't met with you please feel free to contact me at home 255-1611 with any questions or concerns you may have.

For those of you who don't know me I am a lifelong resident of Hancock County. I'm 44 years old and a graduate of St. Stanislaus and Pearl River Community College. I am married to the former Patricia Shiyou and we have two sons, Jamie, a senior at Ole Miss and Lance, a sophomore at St. Stanislaus.

It has been an honor and privilege to serve as your supervisor of District 5. I would like to continue to serve and make Hancock County a better place to raise your children and mine.

These are some items I have supported over the last 4 years...

- Reduce the Mileage 3.7 mills:
- In conjunction with the state legislators raised homestead exemption from $60,000 to $75,000:
- Upgraded all ball fields and recreational facilities:
- Made vast improvements to the equine facility:
- Upgraded and improved roads and drainage in Dist. 5:
- Supported renovations to courthouse:
- Made numerous improvements at McCleod Water Park:
- Supported effort to bring 2 major corporations to Hancock County - Lockheed Martin and Mississippi Polymer Technology

Tunica's new airport will give local economic developers a new tool in securing industry beyond casinos.

It will be an attractive asset to both manufacturers and service related industries. The airport's proximity to the metropolitan Memphis area is also a big plus. I believe Tunica Airport could eventually become a passenger terminal, helping to alleviate air traffic at the nearby Memphis International Airport.

The Memphis metro area is known worldwide as a warehousing and distribution point, serving as the home of Federal Express and other global distribution operations.

Already some companies like Hunter Fan, Williams Sonoma, Dollar Tree, Dollar General and others have chosen to place distribution facilities and jobs in nearby Mississippi counties, in North Mississippi and even as far south as Brandon.

The new Tunica Airport along with other airport upgrades across the state will give these companies more incentive to bring additional distribution jobs across the state line.

Other parts of the state also can benefit from this diversification through infrastructure strategy.

For instance, along the Gulf Coast I am working with public officials on a number of projects that will further propel and diversify South Mississippi's economy far beyond gaming and tourism. New jobs in the defense contracting sector, in new technologies like remote sensing and in the energy arena will help ensure this region is never too dependent on one or two industries.

Further down the river from Tunica in Vicksburg, Natchez, and eastward to the Choctaw Reservation, we continue funding transportation and infrastructure improvements that will allow these areas to attract new, good-paying jobs in the manufacturing sector - again building on momentum created by local gaming and tourism, but going well beyond it, creating jobs that stand alone, independent of any single activity.

Mississippi's history teaches us that we must never become too complacent, dependent on one particular job base. Our economy must be diversified - in the Delta, in the hills, on the coast and in every corner of our state.

Transportation and infrastructure projects like Tunica Airport can help local areas chart new economic territory, creating more jobs, moving well beyond a single basket economy and far beyond the economic mistakes of our past.

Groundbreaking held for PRCC Chapel

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The groundbreaking ceremony held Tuesday for the new Pearl River Community College chapel officially launched the construction of the new 4,233 square-foot building on the main campus.

After 16 months of fundraising, the school collected the $700,000 necessary to complete the project.

PRCC President Dr. William Lewis explained during the ceremony why PRCC chose to build a chapel. "At PRCC there are three principles we embrace.

"We always put students first, we do everything in a quality manner, and we build family here at PRCC. What could be more important to those efforts than a chapel? This building is symbolic of the spirit of God embedded in this institution."

The chapel, designed by Hattiesburg architect Don McCleskey, will feature a 100 square-foot bell tower that will be 45 feet tall. The inside will feature a bride's room, a sound room, restrooms, a stage area, and seating capacity for up to 215 people.

The general contractor is Hanco Corporation of Hattiesburg, and the construction is estimated to take nine months.

According to Hattiesburg businessman Sidney Malone, who donated $400,000 towards the chapel, his donation wasn't for him. "This is for the PRCC family and for the generations to come. I'm just glad God blessed me with the heart and the resources to give to the chapel. My wife, Richie, and I are thrilled to help the PRCC family."

The chapel campaign chairman Executive Vice-President of Hancock Bank and PRCC alumnus James Ginn was ecstatic about the new chapel as he spoke at the groundbreaking. "This just isn't a groundbreaking, this is a holy cause and a holy place. Preparing to build this chapel was a great task, but we serve a great and mighty God."

"Today is truly the day the Lord has made. We have had over 700 people donate to make this chapel happen, and we want to thank you all," said Donna Wilson Lee, executive director of PRCC Development Foundation.

Hancock County Supervisor, District 5

Dedicated and determined to share your goals.

Your 2003 Republican Candidate

Annexation:

As your Supervisor: It will be my duty to you as citizens of District 5 to ensure that you are informed of all rules and laws governing the annexation process. I will do this by publishing all information concerning annexation in my community news publication, the Hancock Focus.

As your Supervisor: I will fight to insure that taxes are assessed fairly.

As your Supervisor: I will fight to get a frontage line assessment for sewer and water which will reduce costs to residents. Presently land speculators are receiving the benefits of improved property values, without the sharing of the expense. By assessing a line frontage fee this will reduce residents sewer and water rates dramatically.

ELECT A PUBLIC SERVANT, NOT A POLITICIAN

- Experienced in road and sewerage projects as well as land development.
- Vote Perry Berens- No mandatory water hook up or charges for County residents with health certified wells.
- Vote Perry Berens- Close open ditches. Increase safety for pedestrians walking, jogging, or biking along busy County roads.
- Vote Perry Berens- To ensure properly graded ditches to decrease county maintenance costs and ensure proper drainage.
- Vote Perry Berens- Elect the first candidate in Hancock County history that has no relative in the state of Mississippi.
- 24 year waterfront resident Jordan River.

To the residents of Hancock County
from Sheriff
Steve Garber

Four years ago you entrusted me with the position of Sheriff of Hancock County. You did so with the understanding that I would bring to Hancock County those changes that you felt necessary to improve the quality and efficiency of the Sheriff's Department. I feel that I have fulfilled those promises. These accomplishments were not completed by me alone, but with the effort and dedication of the many hardworking personnel within the department.

I now ask that you allow me the opportunity of continuing the positive changes that have been made. It is not only my desire I feel, but the desire of everyone in Hancock County to have the most efficient and proficient law enforcement available and I feel that by the example I have set forth, I am very capable of continuing that process.

Although I have tried to visit personally with everyone, some of us may have missed the opportunity to talk. If so, my open door policy extends to you the opportunity to talk with or visit with me at anytime. This gives me the ability to address your personal concerns, thus helping us work together to develop a better community.

To each and every one I humbly request your vote and support in the upcoming election and offer to you the promise of continued dedication to promote positive changes within the department.

Boil water notice set for Clermont Harbor residents

Total Environmental Solutions Inc. will be doing scheduled maintenance on a line repair Clermont Harbor Subdivision of Hancock County on Monday Aug. 4 starting at 10 a.m.

You may be without water until about 1 p.m. When the water comes back on you will need to boil the water. Steve Jones, spokesperson for the water system, said this precautionary action is necessary because the system can lose pressure during its procedure.

When a distribution system loses pressure, contaminants can siphon back into the system. Public Health officials consider any system that has lost pressure contaminated until tests of the water prove otherwise. As soon as pressure is restored to those customs affected, water system officials will begin collecting water samples for testing.

When pressure is restored, officials recommend that consumers vigorously boil for one minute any water to be consumed.

Users will be notified when tests indicate that the advisory can be lifted.

The Love of Cats on display at Bay library

Notice to all cat lovers! Porcelain cats, omately dressed Victorian cats, cloth stuffed cats, cat shaped plates, cat salt and pepper shakers and all sorts of more cats are now on display through the month of August at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The collection is owned by Suzanne Benton Perret, whose love of cats began in 1966, when she purchased her first, six week old seal point Siamese cat. Then, in 1968, she received her first cat figurine. That's when the cat collection began.

In the 1970s Suzanne and her friends formed the Vieux Carre Cat

Franchisers Club in New Orleans to show cats. She owned and showed Siamese cats for ten years, and then began using her cats in her Clinical Social Work. She is a therapist, and has found that there is definitely therapeutic value to using pet therapy.

The display includes some of Perret's favorite pieces, from candle holders to scarves to Pot Belly miniature figurines of King Hariy VII, Queen Elizabeth and William Shakespeare. There are also siamese cat rocks, Kluban Cat can dishes and a colorful and fanciful cat clock with moveable parts.

For more information on the display, call the library at 228-467-5282.

"The People's Strong Voice for the New District 95"
 Hancock and Harrison County

Dear Voters:

I am a resident of Diamondhead, Mississippi. Myself, my wife Sandi and our son Drake Francis are excited about this upcoming election and have enjoyed the opportunity to meet all of the wonderful people in both Hancock and Harrison County. A special thanks to all of my friends and my family who have supported me during this upcoming election and have encouraged me through their prayer.

It is time, for Diamondhead and Harrison County to have a strong voice in the House of Representative, District 95. I will be focused on our Education System, Tort Reform, Balanced Economic Development and reducing Mississippi's large deficit. I am thankful for the education that I was able to receive and want to ensure that our children are able to receive the same opportunity in the Mississippi school system.

I am asking each of you to vote for me on AUGUST 5, 2003. I am a young Republican that looks forward to making a difference in the years to come. I have worked very hard through my business as an Environmental Scientist to assist large and small businesses in locating to Mississippi.

I appreciate all of the calls I have received about this upcoming election and I will continue to be accessible to my voters of District 95. Your questions and comments are greatly appreciated and I can be reached at 228-493-9500.

Sincerely,
 Eric Necaise

said Friday, "I wish you could have seen the excitement of those young girls as they boarded their respective floats prior to the parade. This was something new to them, participating in a Mardi Gras parade, throwing of beads, trinkets and cups, something many of they have never seen before."

Visitors to Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Diamondhead and Hancock County, who came for the 2003 Dixie Girls Pony Tails World Series anxiously awaited along the streets of the Sporting Complex for their respective team float to pass.

The floats were courtesy of the Waveland Civic Association, used in the annual St. Patrick's Day parade, Waveland being a neighboring city of Bay St. Louis. Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre welcomed all visitors to Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Diamondhead and Hancock County.

There were tremendous cheers during the parade as the states floats passed in addition to their introductions at the high school's football stadium.

Cheers roared for players from Atoa, Tennessee; Montgomery, Alabama; Plaquemine, Louisiana; Hopkins County, Texas;

Dozens lined the streets near the athletic complex in Bay St. Louis Friday for the Mardi Gras-style parade which officially opened the Pony Tails World Series.

Saturday's action began the first game of the 12 teams in the double elimination play. Action continues this afternoon with the first game scheduled at 4 p.m., followed by one at 4:30, 5:30, 6:00, 7:00 and 7:30 p.m. The games are to be played at two fields of the Bay St. Louis Sports Complex.

There are four games scheduled for Monday; three games on Tuesday; two games Wednesday; and one or two games on Thursday. On Friday night, the team members and their coaches were treated to a dinner which included boiled shrimp.

Saturday evening a "Ponytail Beach Party" was held for team members coaches and Dixie Officials.

Suit -- Bay P.D.

commissioners are named as defendants.

According to the suit, O'Neal attended a grievance hearing with the mayor in May 2002.

"Testimony to the mayor documented repeated loss by Bay St. Louis officers of a substantial portion of the twelve paid holidays granted as a paid leave benefit ... under the city's employee handbook," according to the suit.

After a later formal hearing held in May of this year, O'Neal "received no response of any kind" from the city, the suit said. The seven other officers joined his cause, requesting another grievance hearing, again receiving "no response of any kind."

With the suit, the officers are now asking the court to make the city grant a "timely" hearing for the officers to "present proof of the city's continuing discrimination against them by the loss of their paid holiday benefits and related issues. The suit also asks the court to "diligently inquire as to why the city and the city's Civil Service Commission has failed to fulfill their respective obligations, procedural and substantive," concerning the officers' grievances.

It also asks the court to require the city to grant the officers the 12 paid holidays per year and pay each of them "an appropriate award" for lost holidays, attorney's fees and related expenses.

The city has not yet filed a formal reply in the case. No hearing has yet been scheduled.

"As agents continued to maintain a surveillance, at approximately 5 p.m., another transaction was observed. When agents confronted the suspect, he fled on foot into an adjacent wooded area. A 911 call was received at the sheriff's office from a business indicating a man was talking to a cab company and in checking with the cab company, he fit the description of the subject sought," Garber said.

"The cab had picked up the suspect and traveled north on Highway 603, then to Interstate 10 and Nichols was taken into custody at mile marker three," Garber allowed.

Nichols was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $25,000 bond, according to Garber.

Narcotics Division Agent

Johnny Allison is in charge of the case.

Agent director Capt. Matt Karl, Agent Chris Russell along with Deputies Doug Ladner, Bert Courrage, Harold Hirsh and Investigator John Luther assisted during the surveillance and arrest.

The Sheriff's Department was also assisted by Waveland Police Officers Matt Seckinger and Jill Barnett.

Join the Hancock Library's Great Books Discussion Group

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Looking for a book club? Like to read? And like to discuss what you read with other people. On Wednesday, August 6, at 7 p.m., the Great Books discussion group will discuss Cathleen ni Houlihan by William Butler Yeats. The meeting will be held in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

These selections are from the current volume, 24 Favorite One Act Plays. Several copies are available for checkout at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The Great Books discussion group, sponsored by the Hancock County Library System, has been meeting and discussing books since March, 1990.

During that time, they read more than 345 titles from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke deTocqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions. The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The Great Books

Foundation was established in 1947 by University of Chicago Chancellor Robert Manyard Hutchins.

Its mission is to provide people of all ages, backgrounds and walks of life with the opportunity to read, discuss and learn from outstanding works of literature.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. The only requirement is that you read the selection before the meeting. For information, call Sheila Cork at 467-5282.

DR. JOE STRIBLING

Dr. Joe Stribling, 54, of Bay St. Louis died July 25, 2003 after a valiant struggle with cancer.

He was born January 20, 1949 in Oxford, MS and was a resident of Bay St. Louis for 19 years. He attended Mississippi State University and completed his degree at Mississippi College.

He received his MD from the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, followed by a surgical residency at UMC and internship at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, AL. He served as a founding member and first president of the Mississippi Emergency Association and Director of Emergency medical services at St. Dominic Hospital, Jackson, MS.

After moving to the Gulf Coast in 1984, Dr. Stribling was honored to serve his community as a caring physician at Memorial Hospital of Gulfport and later as the owner of Gulf South Urgent Care in Bay St. Louis.

He was preceded in death by his mother Ethelyn J. Stribling.

Survivors include his wife, Leticia and son, John-Michael "Jim" of Bay St. Louis, father Dr. Loutrelle Stribling of Brandon, MS; brothers, Dr. Roscoe Stribling of Kailua, HI; Dr. Sam Stribling of Columbia, MD; and Pete Stribling of Madison, MS; sisters, Susan Bailey of Brentwood, TN; Shay Yarborough of Round Rock, TX; and numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, and nephews.

He was a wonderful husband, father, son, brother and friend.

Memorial services will be held Saturday, August 16th at 2:00 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis with the Reverend Dr. Arthur Johnson officiating.

Friends may gather in Virginia Hall at Christ Episcopal Church 2 hours prior to the service.

In lieu of flowers the family prefers donations be made to the Episcopal Honduran Medical Mission.

Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Home in Gulfport is in charge of the arrangements.

Gulf South Urgent Care continuing Stribling's tradition of community care

ECHO STAFF REPORT

The staff and patients of Gulf South Urgent Care are still reeling from the untimely death of Dr. Joe Stribling, but the facility's co-founder says the clinic will continue Stribling's commitment of service to the people of Hancock County.

"I lost my friend of over 25 years and my business partner ...," George Sanders said Friday, "but we're hanging in there. We've got a lot of good people, and a lot of support from the community."

Stribling died last Monday after a valiant struggle against cancer. He had been on medical leave from Gulf South for the past few months.

Stribling was a beloved member of the community. As Hope Haven Executive Director Terry Latham wrote in a letter to the Sea Coast Echo last week, "Doctor Stribling reminded me of the country doctor portrayed on TV."

"He was unassuming, friendly, shook your hand, was really happy to see you. He listened very closely to whatever you had to say. He took his time."

"You could pop into Urgent Care for treatment for yourself or a child confident that you would be able to get something done to make you better, without having to take out a bank loan. ... We shall indeed miss him and what he gave to our community."

Sanders said that despite Urgent Care's tragic loss, the staff - including Dr. Warren K. Wright, Dr. Troy Kilpatrick and Certified Family Nurse Practitioner Melissa "Missy" Stringer - still offers the same level of quality medical care.

"We're still doing the same things we did before," he said. "In fact, we're actually doing a few more things," such as intravenous therapy.

Gulf South Urgent Care at 852 Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis, just across from Hancock Medical Center, is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The facility is closed on weekends and holidays.

Memorial services for Dr. Stribling will be held Saturday, August 16, at 2:00 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis with the Reverend Dr. Arthur Johnson officiating.

Friends may gather in Virginia Hall at Christ Episcopal Church two hours prior to the service.

L'Enfant returns from military service in Iraq

Lance Corporal Phillip J. L'Enfant, U.S. Marine Corps, son of Jerry and Phyllis L'Enfant of Waveland, is returning home. He fought on the front lines in Iraq along with his comrades in the 1st Tank Battalion, home-based in 29 Palms, Ca. L'Enfant will return home on Friday, Aug. 8.

Shermann installed as president

Nancy Ann Sherman of Pass Christian was installed as the 2003-04 president of the Biloxi Lions Club in ceremonies recently held at the Biloxi Yacht Club.

Sherman is a self employed visual impairment consultant.

The installation of officers was held at the Annual Awards Banquet.

Special awards presented were the Nelvin Jones Fellow to David Stanovich; Lion of the Year to Doris Mahalak; and Dalstrom award to Larry Sturgis.

The installing officer was Greg Crapo.

Officers included: Nancy Ann Sherman, president; Jim Compton, 1st vice-president; David Judge, 2nd vice-president; Arlene Canann, 3rd vice-president; Len Fishman, secretary; and Darrell Galey, treasurer.

Others installed were: Doris Mahalak, Lion Tamer; David Collie, Tail Twister; Larry Sturgis, Roar editor; Jaye Brice, Membership chairman; David Collie, Ex-Officio; Laurie Cox, and David Stanovich, three year directors; Jude McDonnell and Tom Wicks, two year directors; and Alvin LeDuke, director at large.

Stone receives accreditation

Lea Ivey Stone of Pass Christian has recently been accredited in public relations by successfully completing a comprehensive examination governed by the Universal Accreditation Board.

The examination for accreditation in public relations measures a candidate's knowledge of public relations practice, communications theory, management science, ethics and general understanding of the profession.

A candidate must have several years of experience in the profession to attain accreditation, which is indicated by the designation APR used after an Accredited member's name.

The Universal Accreditation Program was formed in January 1998. Nine public relations organizations now participate in the program including the Public Relation Society of America. The program is administered by PRSA which operated its own accreditation program beginning in 1964.

Approximately 6,000 public relations professional have achieved accreditation.

Stone is the referral development/contract specialist for Memorial Behavioral Health in Gulfport, where she has been employed for 12 years.

She is vice president of programs and Fall Workshop chair of the local Public Relations Association of Mississippi-MS Beach Chapter. Stone previously worked for Crosby Memorial Hospital as director of marketing and The Picayune Item as a writer and features editor.

Swetman named top volunteer

Chevis C. Swetman, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of The Peoples Bank, has been named a 2003 Volunteer of the Year by the Mississippi Economic Development Council (MEDC).

Gov. Ronnie Musgrove presented the award to Swetman and eight other recipients from across Mississippi at the organization's annual conference.

New logo

The Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau (HCTDB), held a reception Wednesday at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis to unveil its new "Brand". The new marketing logo features the sun and a wave with the wording, Mississippi's West Coast, Hancock County. "After seven years of explaining who, what and where Hancock County is, to individual and group buyers of our tourism destination, it became very clear that we were lacking that major sales tool, a brand," said Beth Carriere, executive director of the HCTDB. A large crowd of local and regional leaders were on hand for the event as officers and board members of the HCTDB proudly presented the new logo. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder)

Ship builder awarded $42.3 million contract

The U.S. Navy has awarded Northrop Grumman Corporation's (NYSE: NOC) Ship Systems sector a $42.3 million cost-plus contract option for services to the DDG 51 Class Aegis destroyer program.

This represents the third option of a multiyear contract that was awarded to the company last year to build four destroyers.

Under the contract, Northrop Grumman will provide services including the design of Aegis destroyer upgrades, planning and technical support.

The company will also help provide baseline upgrade work, pre commissioning crew indoctrination, and specific research and development efforts.

Northrop Grumman has delivered 18 quality destroyers to the Navy, with 10 ships remaining to be built. Northrop Grumman Ship Systems recently christened its 21st Aegis destroyer James E. Williams (DDG 95), and began construction on DDG 100 in January, marking the beginning of the company's 24th ship.

The Naval Sea Systems command is the contracting activity for this DDG 51 service contract.

Northrop Grumman's Ship Systems includes primary operations in Pascagoula and Gulfport, New Orleans and Tallulah, La., as well as in a network of fleet support offices in the U.S. and Japan.

Ship Systems, which currently employs more than 17,000 shipbuilding professionals, primarily in Mississippi and Louisiana, is one of the nation's leading full service systems companies for the design, engineering, construction, and life cycle support of major surface ships for the U.S. Navy, U.S. Coast Guard and international navies, and for commercial vessels of all types.

Fall, winter hunting seasons set

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Besides their birthday or perhaps their wedding anniversary, some of the most important dates to Mississippi hunters are when their favorite shooting sports open. Not long ago, the fall and winter hunting dates passed earlier by the Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks became law. You should find your favorite season below.

The waterfowl and migratory birds seasons will be announced at a later time, according to T. J. Jennings, Director of Law Enforcement, Wildlife and Fisheries.

Frogs: The season for taking frogs will be Apr. 3, 2004 to Sept. 19, 2004. BAG LIMIT: 25; Possession Limit: 50. Only 25 may be taken in any one night. A valid hunting or fishing license is required.

RACCOON: July 1, 2003 - Oct. 1, 2003, BAG LIMIT: One per party. Possession Limit: 2.

OPOSSUM, RACCOON, AND BOBCAT: Oct. 2 - 31, 2003; sport hunting with dogs and gun for food & sport. BAG LIMIT: 5 per day; 8 per party. Possession Limit: 10.

Nov. 1, 2003 - Feb. 28, 2004, for food, sport and pelt. BAG LIMIT: No limit.

TRAPPING SEASON: Nov. 1, 2003 - Feb. 28, 2004. BAG LIMIT: No Limit.

WILD TURKEY: SPRING SEASON: Mar. 20, 2004 - May 1, 2004, in all counties except the following closed counties or parts thereof: Prentiss: east of Hwy 145 and north of Hwy 370 & Hwy 366 and west of Hwy 371 & CR3371 and south of Hwy 30. Leflore: west of Hwy 7 and Hwy 49E and north of Moorehead Rd. and south of Hwy 442. Sunflower: south of Hwy 442 and east of Hwy 3 and Hwy 49W and north of Berclair Rd.

BAG LIMIT: 1 adult gobbler or 1 gobbler with 6-inch or longer beard per day, 3 per spring season.

EXCEPTION: FOR HUNTERS 15 YEARS OF AGE AND YOUNGER, one of the 3-bird bag limit (which includes the youth hunt weekend and the regular spring season combined) may be any gobbler regardless of beard length.

YOUTH TURKEY HUNT** - Mar. 13 & 14, 2004 on Private Lands Only in those areas open for turkey hunting. BAG LIMIT: See Spring Turkey Season bag limit.

**Youth eligible to participate in this special hunt are those 15 years of age and younger. Each youth must be in the immediate vicinity and under the direct supervision of an adult 21 years of age or older.

Hancock cheerleaders win awards at summer camp

Although football season is still a month away, the Hancock High School cheerleading squad has already distinguished itself as one of the top squads on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The squad has already distinguished itself as one of the top squads on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The squad recently returned from a National Cheerleading Association (NCA) summer camp held at the University of Southern Mississippi's Gulf Park Campus and brought back more than dirty laundry and sore muscles. The HHS cheerleaders brought back greater skills, team united, and host of awards including technical excellence in both cheer motions and stunting. In addition to awards for technical skills, NCA also recognized the HHS squad for sportsmanship and teamwork. At each of the NCA's 1,100 camps around the country, the camp staff selects one squad to receive the Herkie Team Award. This award is given to squad that exemplifies the highest level of leadership, values, and teamwork. The Hancock High School cheerleading squad received this award before the end of camp. On the last day of camp, a small competition is held to determine the NCA camp's Top Team.

Besides team awards, one Hancock High cheerleader received an individual award - senior Adam Spiers was chosen as an NCA All-American on the basis of motion technique, tumbling, jumps, spirit, enthusiasm, and voice projection. He is eligible to perform at various NCA Special Events throughout the year. Although the HHS squad had a successful summer, the team is setting even higher goals for the 2003-2004 school year. Team coach Health Gibson stated, "I've been working with cheerleading squads for ten years, and this squad has the potential to go all the way to the top. I'm looking forward to an outstanding season."

32 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Thompson introduces bill for Roosevelt Refuge, Collier Center

by James L. Cummins

This year is the 100-year conservation legacy of President Theodore Roosevelt. What started in 1903 with one, small, four-acre bird sanctuary off the coast of Florida has since grown to the world's largest network of lands managed for the benefit and protection of wildlife and the habitat that supports them.

A year earlier, in 1902, Roosevelt came to Mississippi on his now famous bear hunt. Greenville Holt Collier was chosen to be the President's guide. He had already killed over 3,000 bears. Collier strongly desired that the President kill a bear so he captured one and tied it to a tree. Roosevelt refused to shoot the tied animal. The story received wide press coverage. Clifford Berryman ran two editorial cartoons on the front page of The Washington Post. Morris Michom saw the cartoon and designed the Teddy Bear, which the Mississippi Legislature recently named the official state toy.

On July 24, 2003, Congressman Bennie Thompson (D-MS) introduced legislation that would establish the "Theodore Roosevelt National Wildlife Refuge" and the "Holt Collier Wildlife Interpretation Education Center."

According to Congressman Thompson, "President Roosevelt and Holt Collier were not only great hunters, but leaders in our Nation's conservation movement."

From its small, humble beginnings, the National Wildlife Refuge System has been a successful land based trial in conservation. President Roosevelt could not have possibly imagined the vastness of it. It is hoped that the future will hold the addition of even more lands into the system to help preserve and protect America's wildlife resources while providing significant opportunities for hunting, fishing and wildlife-associated recreation. The "Theodore Roosevelt National Wildlife Refuge" will encompass lands around the historic hunt location and connect other public lands in the South Delta that will serve as wildlife corridors. The "Holt Collier Wildlife Interpretation and Education Center" will highlight the life of Holt Collier and the conservation efforts of President Roosevelt. Lands will be purchased only from willing sellers.

Bay P.D. offers 'Night Out'

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

On Tuesday, Aug. 5, the National Association of Town Watch will celebrate its 20th anniversary of National Night Out. Locally, due to elections being held on that day, the event will be held on August 12 instead. One neighborhood in Bay St. Louis already has a night of fun planned and Bay St. Louis Assistant Police Chief Dave Stepro is hoping that more join in the festivities.

National Night Out is designed to increase awareness of drug problems and crime prevention, generate support for and participation in local anti-crime programs, strengthen neighborhood awareness and partnerships between police and community, and send a message to criminals that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

"We need to take our neighborhoods back," said Stepro.

One Bay St. Louis neighborhood is getting right into the spirit of the event. Organizers Alicia Cool and Stacy Smith have helped pull together a party they hope will attract about 160 households.

The party will be a chance to meet and greet neighbors, said the two women, and reorganize the Neighborhood Watch Program, as well as providing a good time. Food and music will round out the evening, with special events and goodies for children. Business sponsors are providing much of the needed items for the party.

Last year the city tried having officers and city officials at a central location for people to come visit.

"But we realized that kind of defeated the purpose of the event," said Stepro. "Which is to have people out in their neighborhoods."

Stepro hopes other neighborhoods will follow Cool and Smith's lead and organize successful events of their own. Bay PD will be glad to help anyone with organization, ideas, or more, Stepro said, and arrange for visits by officers and other city officials. Just call the station and ask for Stepro or his secretary Sandy Day. The number is 228-467-9221.

Parties aren't the only way to celebrate Night Out. A neighborhood could organize a food drive, beautify a common area, hold a rummage sale, a street carnival or any number of other events. Stepro asked that even if people don't decide to organize any events this year, that they show their support for the event by leaving porch lights on that evening.

Peterson announces his candidacy for Hancock Co. Sheriff

Ronald A. (Ronnie) Peterson of Waveland has announced his candidacy for Hancock County sheriff in the 2003 elections.

RONNIE PETERSON

Peterson, a Democrat, is a security investigator at Casino Magic, Bay St. Louis.

Peterson is married to Bonnie Lee Peterson and is the father of Ronald A. Peterson, II and Wendy Lynne Myrick.

He is a native of Bay St. Louis and now resides in Waveland.

He is a graduate of Bay High and attended Pearl River Junior College and spent four years in the United States Marine Corps and is a Vietnam veteran.

Peterson served as Hancock County sheriff for 5 terms, 1980 to 2000.

In making his announcement Peterson said, "I am the most experienced and qualified candidate having served 20 years as your sheriff. I am also a proven leader, and will bring leadership back to the office. I want to be your sheriff again."

Lost Communities OF HANCOCK COUNTY

The people that lived in what is now the Stennis Space Center Federal City and Buffer Zone, while being a unique and independent bunch of individuals, were something more. They were a family, and like a family, they tended to work together for the good of the whole group. Most remember a harmonious daily life largely untouched by the troubles of the more sophisticated outside world. Many of the families living in the area held land that had been in their families for generations and the Murphys were no exception. Their family land, in the area that was once Napoleon, had been acquired from a Spanish land grant, well before the Louisiana Purchase turned property in the area over to the French.

It is no wonder that when planes began flying low over the area around 1960, no one thought much about it. The planes were from the U.S. government and they were surveying the area to plan an acquisition of the land by eminent domain in order to build a new rocket testing facility. "We didn't know," said Nancy Murphy. "The planes kept flying over low and we wondered what was going on ... we thought they might think it was as pretty as we did ... but they were looking at it to take it."

Nancy was part of a large Catholic family of the 10 children of Mary Starks of Ocean Springs and Charles B. Murphy of Napoleon. Charles and Mary met when Mary came to teach school in Westonia. All 10 children except the oldest sister, Lucille Witter, were born in Napoleon.

Nancy and Lucille, similar in age, remain close today. Nancy lives in her home in Bay St. Louis and Lucille in Pass Christian at Miramar Lodge. They talk by phone almost daily.

"My mother came to teach in Westonia," said Lucille. "And for a while she lived in a boxcar. She was a lovely sweet person. With 10 kids to raise can you imagine all the work there was ... but she always had time to play with us."

"My daddy had a farm all his life, but worked at the Weston Lumber Company for a while and the tax assessor's office. We grew sugar cane and sweet potatoes and we always had a garden." The family also made cane syrup and cooked the mixture for days over open fires in the yard.

Charles later became a county supervisor and served on the school board

Nancy Murphy never married, she said, though she came close once to taking the plunge with a man from Longview, Texas once. She lives in her home in Bay St. Louis.

The Lost Communities series will continue on the first Sunday of every month. History should be the memories of many people, not just one or two people. We would like to add your memories to the stories of Logtown, Napoleon, Santa Rosa, Gainesville, Westonia or other areas in Hancock County that were lost when Stennis Space Center was established. We are looking for people to help. Please add your story, old photos or mementoes to the living history of an area that was loved and should not be forgotten. No story is too small to be preserved for future generations and only you can share those memories and ensure that they are preserved. Please call Bennie Shallbetter at 228-467-5474 or e-mail me at bennie@goldinc.com to set up an interview.

Military Mention

Air Force Airman 1st Class Amy M. Frierson

Air Force Airman 1st Class Amy M. Frierson has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

She is the daughter of Tom Williams of Carre Court, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Frierson is a 2002 graduate of Bay High School, Bay St. Louis.

Civilian Spencer J. Zeigler, son of Robert D. Zeigler of Waveland, Miss., recently participated in the U.S. Naval Academy's week-long summer seminar program in Annapolis, Md.

During the program, Zeigler was introduced to academy life through a regimen of academics, physical training, intramural sports, sailing and seamanship, as well as leadership training and social activities.

The summer seminar program was designed by the U.S. Naval Academy's office of admissions to give students a taste of the challenges and benefits of a Naval Academy education.

Zeigler is currently attending St. Stanislaus College Preparatory High School.

Navy Seaman Recruit Kenneth A. Kreger, son of Gwen A. and Peter N. Kreger of Diamondhead, Miss., recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Kreger completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the key skills and confidence they need to graduate and take to the fleet. "Battle Stations" has been designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Its distinctly 'Navy' flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

National Award Winner

Edward Prendergast III

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Louis Edward Prendergast III from Bay St. Louis has been named a United States National Award Winner in Foreign Language.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Prendergast, who now attends Bay High School, was nominated for this national award by Joe Shaw, a coach at the middle school.

Prendergast will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Prendergast is the son of Louis and Shirley Prendergast from Bay St. Louis. The grandparents are Madeline Prendergast and the late Louis Prendergast Sr. of Bay St. Louis and Jo Ready of Picayune and Allen Ready of Bay St. Louis.

in Logtown. He was dedicated to ensuring that the children displaced by the closing of the Logtown school were not forced to go all the way to Bay St. Louis for an education.

He pushed for a school in Pearlinton, where many people were relocating, and the Charles B. Murphy Elementary School was named after him for his efforts.

"Our house had a swinging door you might say," said Nancy. "My mother never knew how many she might feed; we always had friends, but living on a farm we always had plenty ... meat, apples pears, pecans, berries. My mother did a lot of canning."

The swinging door extended area wide and the women say that many times it would take them to their close neighbors, the Hovers. Mother Pearl Hover played piano and often the young people would end up there to dance and sing.

At the Murphys, Mary always had a sweet treat for the group, baked pears, molasses cookies, a banana sandwich, or just sweet cream and sugar on bread.

"In the evening we would catch fire flies and mosquito hawks on cotton on a string ... you never see fire flies anymore ... and watch the cows come in from the field. That was our big fun," said

Nancy. "We made our own fun."

"We would sit on the porch on Sunday evening and we could hear the Baptist preacher and the singing. We were the only Catholic family in town, but it was always like one big family. We went to the youth parties and when the Baptist's had a traveling preacher mother would take her turn at making a meal for him just like everyone else," Nancy said.

"It was such and easy life and it makes me want to cry if I think too deep about it," she said. "I was talking to my brother the other day and I said, do you think we were as happy as we think we were? We were free to run the range. I guess it (the test site) brought some jobs so people with an education could stay at home, but it just broke people's hearts to have to leave and I don't know if it was worth all that heartache."

A favorite memory is of Grandmother Murphy's "Hatching Trunk." If the children were good she would go to the trunk and it would "hatch" a treat. It could be anything and sometimes might be just a nut.

Murphy land went clear from the road to the river and at the river sat Nancy's favorite tree, a large Cypress, where she spent time alone reading and contemplating life.

"When N A S A widened the river they took my tree," Nancy said.

Like many families the Murphy's decided to retain their rights to their land and only lease it to the government. Both women visit as often as they can though these days they are dependent on family members for a ride there, easier these days now that there is a road. For many years access to the area was by horse and wagon or by boat down the river, the women remember.

"But we can go there anytime we want," said Lucille, whose husband Michael is buried there. "I went there just two weeks ago and could call a cab today and go if I wanted to."

The feeling of family extended throughout the community.

"Black families lived there with us," said Nancy. "We were taught to call the black women aunt and the black men uncle; they were part of our family. Aunt Fannie lived with us until my grandmother died and she decided she would go home to her own family. Blacks and whites got along just fine and we always have."

Many people still hold out hope that their land will be returned some day, if not to them then to children or grandchildren.

"Honey I guess we hold on too much to things in the past," said Nancy. "My friend Bobby Baxter said, 'Nan, they tell us that we'll never go back but I know I will, what about you?' We know we will go back."

Of course for now, the two were talking about a return to their beloved home when this life is done, to be buried, Lucille next to Michael and the others among friends and kinfolk. Which was just about everyone you knew, according to Nancy.

"We all felt we were kin, but we weren't really of course," said Nancy. "It was just what it was like."

A favorite memory of Nancy and Lucille's is of Grandmother Murphy's "Hatching Trunk." If the children were good she would go to the trunk and it would "hatch" a treat. It could be anything and sometimes might be just a nut.

Court St. Station hosts Civil Servers benefit for Annabelle's Home

Celebrity waiters to serve Aug. 23

Court St. Station will host Civil Servers, a benefit featuring celebrity waiters, for Annabelle's Home, a primate sanctuary in Kiln that serves as a home for monkeys that are endangered species.

If you've ever wanted the Bay St. Louis police chief to bring you a glass of wine or your councilman to bring you a piece of cheesecake, here's your chance. Don't forget to tip them well, because all the gratuities go to Annabelle's Home.

This event will take place Aug. 23 from 6 to 10 p.m.

Barbara Heally, also known as the "Monkey Lady," has been rescuing and rehabilitating primates for many years. Many of these animals have been abused and starved. Their only hope for a decent life is a place like Annabelle's Home.

Because there are not many places like the sanctuary, many of these primates have been destroyed.

The sanctuary has been kept a secret to protect the animals. The monkeys are usually in a delicate condition when they get to the home, and sightseers could cause them more stress.

Annabelle's Home was named for a snub tail Makak who was rescued by Heally from a roadside circus. She had been badly mistreated and was to the point of death. Annabelle was cared for and brought back to health.

She lived the remaining years of her life with the Heally family. After her death, the sanctuary was named in her memory because her story embodies the goal the sanctuary strives for.

The days of August, the end of summer

It's the 4th of July, the very hiatus of a new summer and light, cooling showers are moving sporadically over the Sound. Stella and I are on the end of Waveland's fishing pier. There are about twelve or so hardened fishermen around us, ignoring the brief sprinkles of rain, each working his/hers limit of two poles and the conversation is fishing.

They're not doing well. The water is barely brackish as a result of the recent rains and the catch is catfish, rays, undersize specs, and every so often a small shark, but it doesn't matter, every hit produces the same excited rush about of reeling in, avoiding other lines, the grabbing of the net to pull whatever is caught up to the high deck of the pier.

Stella has caught two hardheads and undaunted is working her borrowed pole, casting, reeling in feeling her line. I'm a few feet away staying out of the action, talking to an old oil field hand who is willing to chat with me between casts about the old days on the rigs, about mud men, pipe stands and doodle bugging. Anything but fishing, I think, and I hang on to his every word.

"Bubba, you got one!" Bubba, a boy about twelve, maybe thirteen, barefoot, large hands and vivid black curly hair, grabs the vibrating pole he'd left resting against the rail and dancing back, yanks hard. The hook sinks in; he has it. More reeling in, excitement. Someone yells, "Another small shark." I can't help it, the excitement is pervasive, and I stand to watch as the boy lands it, and another boy, the same age, measures it, thirty four inches, not a keeper - and deftly unhooking it, Bubba throws it back in.

Finally, Stella tires of catching hardheads and we head back, me driving as she talking about fishing and the repaired and newly extended pier that is now Waveland's pride and joy. The pier is not officially open as yet, but when it does, probably by the first or second week of August, she plans to get a season ticket.

"Too bad about Bubba," she says looking back toward the long pier where she left him. "He'll only be able to come out on weekends."

"Why is that?" "School. His school starts the end of this month. No, that's not right. I think it starts the eight of August or something like that."

"What? August?" "Paul, come on. All the schools around here start from this point on, summer really starts. Summer, real summer, stretching far ahead across a long hazy distance of hot, bright days.

Against all this, I try to digest what Stella has told me. School in August! It all seems unreal. Our children and grandchildren are grown beyond school (although one is still in college). So, my ideas of summer vacations are old, left over from my own experience with school.

I remembered that way back then we got off about a week before Memorial Day

Views From a Front Porch

by Paul Estronza La Violette laviolette@mail.datasync.com

I'm not sure who made the rules of school vacation ending in August. And I'm not knowledgeable enough to know why. I am sure that when whoever they are put down a list of positive and negative factors of logical choices, learning time, school equipment usage, teacher output, the gradual elimination of summer became the best of logical choices. But there are things that will eventually be lost.

the first week or second of August. You know that!"

"No. No, I didn't. Why are they doing that? How long has that been going on?"

Later I sit on the porch, rain squalls move in front going east to west across the water. Jennie's at my feet and the low rumble of thunder far to our west makes her look about nervously. The Waveland Pier to our right vanishes momentarily in the diffused haze of a moving squall. I'm sure with all this, the fishermen have quit for the day. I watch the show, thinking of it all as a late spring effort and that and went back to school after Labor Day. That gave us three months of ... of ... well, whatever we wanted. What a wonderful gift. Three months of summer jobs, camps, family vacations or just sitting around watching golden day follow golden day. Usually a little of each, but a lot of the last. Maybe this was all too much to the structure-seeking school czars of today.

Maybe that's it. Our days then were not structured, we were wasting time, time that could be any thinking person, be better spent in planned lessons, in a controlled environment, doing the logical things, the needed things, the things that went with producing a person ready to enter the real world.

Maybe. But then there's Bubba. What class would teach him to do what he did today, what class would have him work so hard for a catch that he and everyone standing there with him would know would be thrown back in as soon as it was landed.

Logic. Structure. Control. Think about it. Around us there are times when all creation seems to be made up of chaos.

It's probably not; I feel there is a subtle logic to it all. It's not the contrived logic we are familiar with, but in an infinitely warped logic. The summers we had long ago, those "wasted" summers, prepared us for the real world's logic, the real world's misshapen structure of existence. A world in which a wasted moment at the right time is joy itself. Almost, when viewed against the vast panorama of existence, the real purpose of it all.

I remember when Gretal was just a six month puppy and I brought her to an obedience trainer in Biloxi. The woman looked at her and told me to bring her back when she was a year old.

"Why?" "She's just a puppy now. Let her have her time as a puppy. She'll enjoy it and you will enjoy it as well. There is always time when she gets older and you will have a better dog."

She was right, we did. I'm not sure who made the rules of school vacation ending in August. And I'm not knowledgeable enough to know why. I am sure that when whoever they are put down a list of positive and negative factors of logical choices, learning time, school equipment usage, teacher output, the gradual elimination of summer became the best of logical choices. But there are things that will eventually be lost.

Like Bubba's dance as he sunk the hook on his catch on the 4th of July on the long new pier in Waveland.

Williams to lead GCCA board, Summer Social held in Biloxi

The Gulf Coast Carnival Association has moved into the new Mardi Gras season with the election of officers and planning for its first major event in August.

Walter V. Williams of Biloxi, who served as captain of Carnival in 1995-96, will serve as chairman of the board of directors for 2003-04. Don Marie Jr. will serve his second term as captain, overseeing and coordinating the Coast's oldest and largest Mardi Gras organization.

"The officers and board of GCCA have been working on next year's Carnival activities since May and we have another great Carnival season planned,"

For more information about joining the Gulf Coast Carnival Association, call 228-432-8806

Williams said. "The ball on Monday night and the parades on Fat Tuesday are part of one of the biggest civic activities conducted along the Coast each year, and we are all proud to be a part of it."

Other members of the newly elected board include Jeff O'Keefe, vice chairman and secretary; Christy Smilek, treasurer; Don Marie, who is also captain of Carnival; Jerry Munro, lieutenant of Carnival; Sherwood Bailey Jr.; Jimmy Haynes; and Peggy Schloegel.

Although Fat Tuesday isn't until Feb. 24, the Association's first major event is only days away. On Aug. 2, the Association hosted its annual Summer Social at the Palace Casino in Biloxi. The social, Williams said, is a chance for prospective new members, known as sponsors, to meet other sponsors and to learn more about the benefits of joining the GCCA.

For more information about joining, contact the Carnival Association at 228-432-8806.

Facts About The BIBLE

EASY BEING A PROPHET?!!

IT WAS NOT EASY BEING A PROPHET IN BIBLICAL TIMES. TAKE THE CASE OF JEREMIAH. HE WAS WARNED EARLY IN HIS CAREER THAT SUCH WOULD BE THE CASE--HE'D MEET WITH TERRIFIC OPPOSITION FROM PRIESTS AND PEOPLE ALIKE, EVEN THOUGH HIS PROPHECIES WERE TRUEFUL. IN FACT, FOR TWENTY-ODD YEARS HIS STORMY WARNINGS WERE NOT HEED-ED SERIOUSLY BY MANY WHO THOUGHT HE WAS JUST A CRANK. HE WAS DENOUNCED, CALLED A TRAITOR AND A DISGRACE TO HIS ANCESTORS, YET STILL HELD TO THE TRUTH AS IT WAS REVEALED TO HIM. AS FAR AS THE PROPHET WAS CONCERNED, JERUSALEM WAS DOOMED IF THEY HAD ANY ALLIANCE WITH EGYPT...TO THE DETRIMENT OF BABYLON! THE FACTION AT COURT WHO FAVORED THE EGYPTIAN ALLIANCE CALLED JEREMIAH A BABYLON LOVER, A TURNCOAT AND RABBLE ROUSER, AND TRIED TO BLACKEN HIS NAME IN EVERY WAY. BUT HE WAS RIGHT AND THEY WERE WRONG! AND IT WAS WITH A SAD HEART THAT HE WATCHED THE HIGH BORN PEOPLE OF JERUSALEM DRAGGED OFF TO BABYLON AND CAPTIVITY. HAD THE PEOPLE LISTENED TO JEREMIAH AND HONORED THE ALLIANCE WITH BABYLON, JERUSALEM MIGHT WELL HAVE BEEN SAVED AND JEREMIAH WOULD NOT HAVE TO LAMENT... "AH LORD! NO! AH, HER GLORY!...DRAWN FORTH AND CAST BEYOND THE GATES OF JERUSALEM? (JER. 22:19)

Are you glad to be vulnerable?

"Being vulnerable is the greatest strength," says movie star Elisabeth Shue in an exclusive interview about the ups and downs of her life.

Her husband, Davis Guggenheim, must have felt great when she added: "Being vulnerable to somebody you love is not a weakness. It's a strength."

Elisabeth admitted that years of trying to be strong like her three brothers and the rest of men did not forestall her feelings of being vulnerable to a man. As virtually every other person who relies on human insights, she only backed into one of life's most startling realities: power stems from weakness.

Why do most people back into an understanding of that reality only after years of futile pursuit of strength or power in some form? Because the very idea that weakness can be a springboard to strength makes no sense at all to a mundane way of thinking. Secular thought posits strength as the begin all.

No matter where we look, we see the familiar secular pattern of building all human relations on a foundation of strength, power and resources.

Every secular precept says that you are not immune from attack, abuse and misuse unless you have sufficient power and resources to shield you.

Politics definitely lives and breathes by this precept. Sooner rather than later, every politician must prominently display a tour de force in order to achieve desired objectives. We see every day that little or nothing happens in City Hall or on Capitol Hill without cliques and alliances of power brokers.

Do you think anyone could ever convince politicians that there is a way better than power plays to conduct government? Do you think anyone could ever convince business, big and small, that rubbing shoulders with the rich, politicians and other resource people is a mercenary, inferior way of acting?

Hardly. The most troubling aspect of this mundane approach to governing is that we find traces of it in all other corporations and institutions, including churches. Yes, the Bark of Peter has been infected with the power bug, and we know only too well that power corrupts now as it has for centuries, even when preceded with an act of faith, a call to prayer and to the Holy Spirit.

School politics and power plays come as no surprise since they are already present in many of the churches. The big disappointment in all of those who engage in power plays is that they are pursuing a secular, mundane approach to life and faith. This belies everything they profess as God-fearing people.

Reflections on Life
by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

So, what is the hottest news of each day as we listen to the radio, view the TV and peruse the newspapers? Power plays, of course. Usually more than a tad underhanded and sometimes downright crooked. Of course, the more crooked and underhanded, the hotter the copy and greater the sales.

With this mercenary background of power and resources in the holy of holies as well as in the marketplace, it is easy for us to morph into cynics, souring on most events and venues of life. However, that would be giving in to the negative sadness of evil and allowing ourselves to be overcome by it.

"Do not be conquered by evil, but conquer evil with good," Paul the apostle admonishes us in Romans 12:21.

But even Paul himself followed that secular template of supposed success for many years, driven to the point of using his knowledge and power as a proud Pharisee to write charges against the followers of Jesus and pushing to the unthinkable, cruel excess of executing them.

Although the secular tenor of her language does not betray it, perhaps Elisabeth Shue read about Paul's conversion in Acts 9, and what God said of him in Acts 9:15: "This man is a chosen instrument of mine to carry my name before Gentiles, kings and Israelites."

None of this happened through Paul's strength, but only after he had been knocked to the ground and reduced to fumbling blindness. Thus he became the world's first person to boast of his weakness in 2 Corinthians 11:30: "If I must boast, I will boast of the things which show my weakness."

Judging from its nervous flight away from vulnerability and its mad rush pell-mell into the secular illusion of physical power and resources, the world and its devotees want no part of the strange, countercultural language thrust upon them by Paul in 2 Corinthians 12: "About myself I will not boast, except about my weaknesses — I will rather boast most gladly of my weaknesses, in order that the power of Christ may dwell with me. Therefore, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and constraints, for the sake of Christ; for when I am weak, then I am strong."

So, are you ever glad to be vulnerable, agreeing with Paul that being weak attracts God's strength to us? Or do you side with the world, attempting to control everyone and everything with physical power and resources?

The "Word" for the Week Contentment, the mark of the Christian

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

What is your level of contentment? Most of us lack real contentment of heart. Why? Because deep contentment comes from God.

He promises, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is perfected in weakness."

Listen to how the apostle Paul responded to this promise. "Most gladly, therefore, I will rather boast about my weaknesses, that the power of Christ may dwell in me. Therefore I am well content with weaknesses, with insults, with distresses, with persecutions, with difficulties, for when I am weak, then I am strong" (2 Corinthians 12: 10-11).

Would you respond in this way? I probably wouldn't. In the midst of weakness, insults, and difficulties I'm prone to grumble.

We often grumble when we're discontented. We grumble about the boss. He's just too bossy. Or we grumble about our pay.

That grumbling shows we need to team to make do with what we have while we are looking to the future and working hard to achieve specific educational goals and employment goals. But in order to learn contentment, we need spiritual help.

The proper place to turn is Jesus Christ. The Bible tells us Jesus Christ is our source of contentment.

Again, listen to the testimony of Paul. "I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances I am. I know how to get along with humble means, and I also know how to live in prosperity; in any and every circumstance I have learned the secret of being filled and going hungry, both of having abundance and suffering need. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Philippians 4:11-13).

Yes, we can learn to be content in every situation God places us if we are strengthened by Jesus Christ.

Scripture Says . . .

By Ed Young

Prayer is the most important conversation we could ever have with our Heavenly Father.

To think we could talk with the creator of ALL the heavens; and to know He listens.

David writes in the Book of Psalms, "O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come." Psalms 65:2

When a love one or a friend is sick we should remember to do this. "Is any sick among you? Let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. The prayer of faith shall raise him up; and if he has committed sins, they shall be forgiven." James 5" 14 & 15.

We fret about many things in this life. We worry about our health, finances, getting older, accidents, wars, just to name a few.

The scriptures say, "Be anxious for nothing, but in ALL things by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your request be made known to God, and the peace of God, which surpasses ALL understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." Ph. 4:6 & 7.

It seems as tho there's a real big problem about knowing the mind of God. Many people just out right believe He's not available, or that He's not concerned. I wonder what they think happen at Calvary's Cross?

Dear readers, prayer is the most powerful thing in this world. "Prayer changes things." Believe this, your Heavenly Father loves to answer your prayers. Be a person of prayer, and you will get to know the shepherd in Psalms 23.

St. Clare Catholic Church

It's been said that many people, in some way, are searching for God. Reaching out to those who are looking for answers is what RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults) is all about. It is a continuing process of prayer, study and discussion to bring new members into the Catholic Church.

Noel Phillips, Director of Religious Education for the parish, said that the lay members of St. Clare will be reaching out to:

1. Unbaptized adults and baptized Christians from other faiths who want to learn more about the Catholic faith and possibly become Catholics;

2. Catholics who may have been baptized but have not received the other Sacraments required of Catholics.

The first phase, which begins on Aug. 28 at 7 p. m. at St. Clare, 234 South Beach Boulevard, Waveland, is a preliminary program to explain the process of preparing adults for initiation into the church through the reception of the Sacraments of Baptism, the Eucharist and Confirmation.

Parishioners are invited to ask friends and neighbors to the meeting, as well as those who may benefit from the inquiry and all who may wish to join as sponsors or workers in this outreach process.

For further information, contact Noel Phillips at 228-467-3296 or the Rectory at 228-467-9275.

Coast Guard celebrates 213 years

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Monday marks the U.S. Coast Guard's 213th anniversary of dedicated service to the United States of America.

The Coast Guard's Eighth District spans a 26-state area, bordered by the Rocky Mountains, the Appalachian Mountains, and the Canadian and Mexican borders. Whether aiding mariners in the Gulf of Mexico or in the heartland of America and its associated waterways, the men and women of the Eighth District have always been a key part of keeping America safe.

On March 1 of this year, the Coast Guard joined a new team, the newly formed Department of Homeland Security.

"Although our missions and department have changed over time, our commitment to the American people has never faltered - and has never been greater," said Rear Adm. Robert F. Duncan, Commander of the U.S. Coast Guard's Eighth District, headquartered in New Orleans.

"Integrating with the Department of Homeland Security has improved our coordination with other local, state and federal agencies, and has allowed us to focus all of our efforts toward keeping America safe," said Duncan.

Just a few examples of what the Coast Guard's Eighth District personnel have accomplished since joining the Department of Homeland Security include:

- saved 393 lives at sea
- seized 2,627 pounds of marijuana and 25 kilograms of cocaine
- responded to 856 pollution incidents
- documented 452 maritime safety violations
- In April, the Coast Guard increased its maritime awareness by establishing an Inland Rivers Vessel Movement Center in St. Louis to gather information and track vessels 24 hours a day along the Mississippi, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri rivers.
- establishing Field Intelligence Support Teams in New Orleans, and Houston/Galveston, Corpus Christi, and Port Arthur, Texas, to work directly with the Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement, FBI, and other local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. The FISTs improve the way local and national intelligence and other security related information, is shared between agencies.
- began an officer exchange program with the Bureau of Customs and Border Protection (BCBP) resulting in a better understanding of the two services' capabilities and organization.
- promoted the safety of marine transportation and commerce on US navigable waters by working more than 2,500 man-hours maintaining buoys and other aids to navigation.
- In South Texas, Coast

Guard personnel have routinely conducted joint-agency operations, such as operations Watch Tower and Rip Current that target illegal migration and illegal narcotics trafficking along the Texas/Mexico border.

The Coast Guard has changed dramatically throughout years, from an initial fleet of 10 revenue cutters in 1790, to 4 modern day naval force of more than 225 cutters, 211 aircraft and 1,400 boats. "Whether we're saving lives at sea, or protecting our country against maritime threats, we take great pride in our mission, our heritage, and our unwavering commitment to ensuring the safety and tomorrow and into the security of America- today, future," said Duncan.

Emeril's 'Bam on the Beach' set Aug. 10

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Join Alden and Emeril Lagasse for a summer evening celebrating the local flavors of the Gulf South on Sunday, Aug. 10, from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Grand Casino Event Center in Gulfport.

"Bam on the Beach" is a wine and food experience featuring a cooking demonstration by Chef Emeril, entertainment by Doc Gibbs and Picante, and cuisine from Emeril's NOLA, Emeril's Delmonico and many other coast and regional fine restaurants.

"BAM on the Beach will not only be a one-of-a-kind culinary event with incredible food, wine and great music, it will also be an amazing way to support kids in our community, raising money for the performing arts center," said Emeril Lagasse. "My wife, Alden and I believe that the more creative and fun things you have for kids to do, the better for the community as a whole. We look forward to making the performing arts center a reality."

During the evening, Chef Emeril will demonstrate how to prepare Gulf Shrimp Ceviche, Creole Broiled Trout and Flambeed Bananas with Drunken Monkey Ice Cream.

At the event, guests can taste delicious select wines and Champagne, savor delectable dishes from twenty of the Coast's renown restaurants and sample pecans, pate, gulf shrimp, micro-greens and cheese prepared by fine food purveyors. Doc Gibbs who performs on "Emeril Live" and his band Picante will entertain guests following the cooking demonstration.

Chef Emeril will live auction four on-stage seats for his cooking demonstration; a New Orleans weekend for two including accommodations and dining at his three restaurants; and two tickets for a Dec. 5 dinner at the LaGasse home in New Orleans with special guest Andre Agassi. Silent auction items include getaways to Atlanta and Las Vegas and a seven-day Carnival Cruise; Emeril cookware, cookbooks and apparel; signed, framed paintings and fine jewelry.

General admission tickets are $100 per person and reserved seats begin at $500 for two people. The event is for adults only. Proceeds benefit the WINGS Performing Arts and Education Center at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center.

Sponsors for the event are Grand Casino Gulfport, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Mississippi, Mississippi Power Company, UBS Financial Services Gulfport Mississippi, H. Gordon Myrick Inc., The Sun Herald, Hancock Bank, and School and Carnival Supplies Inc.

Raffle tickets for $25 each offer the winner a trip to New York for "Emeril Live" including airfare on AirTran Airways and two nights hotel accommodations, winner does not have to be present to win. Tickets can be purchased by calling the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center at 228-897-6039, or by going online at www.lmdc.org.

Alden and Emeril Lagasse launched a $2 million dollar capital campaign Jan. 4 to create a theater of the performing arts at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in Gulfport. The gymnasium adjacent to the museum will be renovated to create a theatre and education center exclusively for young people, the first of its kind in Mississippi. For more information about giving opportunities call the Discovery Center at 228-897-6039.

Checking in With Dale Godboldo

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Dale Godboldo

Dale Godboldo is a soft-spoken Texan, which makes it even more difficult to hear him at a Los Angeles party where many confuse loudness with wit.

He co-stars in the Fox sitcom "Wanda at Large" as Keith, the caustic title character's level-headed best friend.

Godboldo's career was jump-started in 1991 with the same revised version of "The Mickey Mouse Club" that featured Christina Aguilera, Keri Russell, Britney Spears and Justin Timberlake.

"It was all I wanted to do from day one," he says of acting. "I knew since I was in kindergarten."

His parents encouraged him. His mom, who had been a back-up singer with Motown, went with him to Orlando, Fla., when he was on "MMC."

"After I finished 'Mouse Club,' I wanted to come to L.A., and I needed money," Godboldo says. "I delivered pizza and worked at Structure (a men's clothing store)."

At least he had a place to stay when he crashed at Keri Russell's home for a month. "We grew up together," he says of his former castmate.

"This is a dream job," Godboldo continues, smiling broadly. "As a young African-American actor, there are not a whole lot of roles out there."

Though that can't be argued, he has not spent much time unemployed. And Godboldo really enjoys working with Wanda Sykes, who he says is funny particularly without a script.

"She's like that all day," he says. "She is one of the funniest women I've ever known. It's 90 percent of why I took this job."

Birthdate: July 5, 1975.

Hometown: Born in Detroit, and raised in Dallas.

Other career goal: Architect.

Pets: "No, but I have had many a pet," he says. "You caught me at a transitional period."

Exercise: "A couple of times a week," he says. "I lift weights. I don't run on a daily basis. Why do I need to run?"

Musical talents: Used to play clarinet, is an accomplished rapper, and wrote and produced the theme song for "Shasta McNasty."

Film: "The Sum of All Fears," "Fire-trap," "Cold Hearts."

TV: "Kristin," "Jenny," "Emerald Cove."

Influences: His dad, Michael J. Fox and Richard Pryor.

Cooking specialty: Chicken parmigiana and tortellini

Don't be mislei-ed: The hula is more than grass skirts

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

To consider plastic grass skirts and coconut bras the defining characteristics of the hula is akin to saying paper flags and sparklers represent the true meaning of Independence Day.

PBS' "P.O.V.: American Aloha: Hula Beyond Hawaii" on Tuesday, Aug. 5 (check local listings), shows how this dance is enjoying a resurgence among Hawaiians in California.

As waves splash over the feet of well-muscled men and plump women effortlessly roll their hips, life is breathed into ancient dances. One need not be fluent in the language to understand that when the men shout and walk in a deep knee bend, they are doing a dance for warriors. One need not grow up where sunsets linger to comprehend that the women's gentle hand motions and graceful pivots are odes to nature.

As dancers perform ancestral steps, it becomes clear they feel deep connections, which nearly were lost. Missionaries even banned the Hawaiian language from being taught in schools in 1896. Like other oppressed cultures, the language and dance went underground and continued to be passed from generation to generation. "The hula is a way of life, and that is what we are learning and teaching," Sissy Kaio of Carson, Calif., says. Though Kaio is a traditionalist, a bit of modern culture rears its head as she instructs someone to mousse a dancer's hair.

In Oakland, Mark Ho'omalulu's beat on native drums differs from traditional rhythms. "My hula attitude is a little brash and aggressive and smart and sassy," he says.

Erika Alexander

Erika Alexander, who stars in Showtime's "Street Time," airing Wednesday, Aug. 6, says, "I never in my life got confirmation for being stuck up. I was just cautious ... I would rather be the nice girl than the fly girl."

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Aug. 3 through Aug. 9, 2003

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

It will be a mix of good and bad for you, Aries. You're going through a growing process right now.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

You might be at odds with a significant other or a business partner. Just ride out the storm calmly, and it will pass.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

If you play your cards right, you will get what you want. Just make sure you're not banking too much on it.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

A loved one comes through for you, so be sure to return the favor. Eventually, the karmic scales will tip in the other person's favor.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Stick close to home and you'll be rewarded kindly with the attention you're craving. A few extra pats on the back will do you good.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

This could be a very positive time for you, if you allow it to be. Get out there and be noticed, and someone special might come your way.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Someone might rub you the wrong way, but don't take it personally. You're not always going to get along with everyone, so get used to it.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Many positive things have been coming your way, and they are apt to keep on coming. Reap the rewards of your cosmic loot while you can.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Some days, you wish you could go home and crawl right back into bed. You might have a few of these, but it won't last very long.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

This is a wise time for investment or buying property. If you need to discuss your ideas with a loved one, do so.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Career matters look promising, but you'll still need to keep plugging away. It'll look good to your bosses.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Higher learning and distant travel is favored right now. Plan a getaway to quench your thirst for faraway lands.

Hilary Duff is busy as 'Lizzie' in 2003 Teen Choice Awards

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

If the 2003 Teen Choice Awards are any indication, Hilary Duff is winding down her run as Lizzie McGuire with a bang.

With production having ended on her Disney Channel comedy series, the young actress is nominated in multiple categories - including the ever-prestigious Choice Female Hottie - for both her TV and movie stints in the role. The results will be announced when David Spade hosts Fox's telecast of the fifth annual ceremony Wednesday, Aug. 6, from the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles.

Kelly Clarkson, the first "American Idol" winner (and a four-time Teen Choice nominee herself), is slated to perform. Other scheduled participants range from music stars Britney Spears and Jessica Simpson to skateboarder Tony Hawk and surfer Kelly Slater.

Also in the announced lineup are ex-"Buffy the Vampire Slayer" star Sarah Michelle Gellar, Colin Farrell (whose newest movie is the TV-series spinoff "S.W.A.T."), Amanda Bynes ("What I Like About You"), Alyssa Milano ("Charmed"), Alexis Bledel ("Gilmore Girls"), Brittany Murphy ("Just Married"), and Paula Abdul and Ryan Seacrest of "American Idol."

Duff also will be on hand, contending for a Teen Choice surfboard trophy in six categories in which either she or "Lizzie McGuire" is nominated. "This is the first time I've been a Teen Choice nominee," she reports. "I'm really excited, but I'm a little nervous, too. I'm in good company, because there are lots of great people that I'll get to be around that night, I love them, too, so it's very cool." As for being up for Choice Female Hottie? "My gosh, I don't know. That feels so weird."

At least Duff has someone to share the feeling with, since she is friendly with co-nominee Bynes. "We don't really hang out too much outside of work," Duff says, "but she's such a cool girl. We presented together at the MTV Movie Awards in June, and we had a great time."

That appearance was just one element of the career whirlwind that has been Hilary Duff's life lately. Her summer also has involved "The Lizzie McGuire Movie" - which makes its home-video debut Aug. 12 - and the release of "So Yesterday," the first single from her forthcoming CD, "Metamorphosis." She will star in two WB Network music specials this fall; additionally, she is promoting products that include her own clothing line, Stuff by Hilary Duff.

"Everything that has been going on is great, totally like a dream come true," the 15-year-old Houston native says. "I've worked really hard, but it also takes a lot of luck and the great people around me who have worked really hard, too. It's so cool that I'm able to do movies and TV and music. Everything I love to do, I get to do, so I'm very blessed."

Music stardom is new to Duff, who also recorded the tune "I Can't Wait" for the "Lizzie McGuire Movie" soundtrack, which has gone platinum in sales. "When I started singing," she reflects, "I thought, 'Oh, yeah, this is cool,' but I always felt like acting was my main focus. After being in the recording studio so much, perfecting things and getting to write a little bit, I fell in love with it. I hope my album does well. I told my mom, 'I'm really proud of it,' and it really feels good to be able to say that."

Though most of her projects have been for Disney - from which she split earlier this summer, then returned under a new post-"Lizzie" deal - Duff teamed with Frankie Muniz ("Malcolm in the Middle") for MGM on the comedy-adventure movie "Agent Cody Banks," which has its home-video premiere this Tuesday, Aug. 5. She has two more feature films coming: a 20th Century Fox remake of "Cheaper by the Dozen" with Steve Martin and Bonnie Hunt, which is due in theaters Christmas Day; and the currently shooting "A Cinderella Story" for Warner Bros.

Q: Holly Marie Combs of "Charmed" is something of a mystery to me. What can you tell me about her and her other projects? -Graham B., Devonshire, Bermuda.

A: The 29-year-old native of San Diego has never been much of a spotlight hog and even admits to occasional bouts of stage fright, although Combs began working as a model in print ads and commercials at age 10, two years after moving to New York with her mother. After small roles in movies such as "Sweet Hearts Dance" and "Born on the Fourth of July," Combs garnered national attention and rave reviews for her insightful work as Tom Skerritt's teenage daughter on the 1992-96 CBS drama "Picket Fences," for which she received a Young Artist Award.

During the "Fences" run, Combs married actor Bryan Smith. The couple divorced in 1997. Her TV movie credits include "A Perfect Stranger," "Sins

Fox's teen drama 'The O.C.' promises more than '90210 Too'

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Newcomer Benjamin McKenzie says he has a big ace in the hole when it comes to playing an outsider on "The O.C.," a new Fox teen drama premiering Tuesday, Aug. 5.

"I'm sort of learning and understanding about television as I go along," the 24-year-old actor says of his high-profile TV series debut, "but that feeling of being an outsider actually helps me with this character. I feel a little bit distanced from all this process going on around me, all the hype surrounding the show. Beyond that, Ryan and I have almost nothing in common as far as the worlds we come from."

McKenzie, a Texan with a strong East Coast theater background, may not have a lot of life history in common with Ryan Atwood, the troubled Southern California teenager he plays in "The O.C.," but he does share the character's obvious intelligence, a quality that moves sympathetic public defender Sandy Cohen (Peter Gallagher) to invite the boy to crash at his home in tony Newport Beach, Calif.

Similarly, "O.C." series creator Josh Schwartz says he knew McKenzie was the right guy to play this hard-to-cast role as soon as the actor auditioned.

"We may have had sort of a different idea in mind for Ryan at first, but Ben came in and opened his mouth and we just fell out of our chairs," Schwartz says. "He already had the character, and he was so soulful. He seemed to have the intelligence that was so crucial. Ryan has had a rough life, but he has to have a special quality to him that Sandy can see almost at first glance, and Ben has that. And finding an actor who you can just tell is smart is a really rare thing."

The basic premise of the show - a teenager from a very modest background is suddenly thrust into the world of rich, privileged peers - understandably has had some TV columnists dismissing the new series as "90210 Too," just a knock-off of the long-running Fox drama "Beverly Hills, 90210."

Both Schwartz and McKenzie acknowledge that the broad premise may be familiar, but they hope the new show has some surprises for viewers.

"Obviously, teenage dramas have been done successfully before by other shows, including the young rebel in the leather jacket, so the trap I faced with Ryan is to go too far, to play him too tough," McKenzie says.

"Certainly Ryan has seen a lot, probably more than any of the other characters, yet he is just as scared and nervous and insecure as any of the rest of them. Ryan just covers it better, and he sees through the bull a little more quickly, perhaps. Certainly he's had to take some rough knocks, but he's not so tough that he doesn't observe and understand a lot about the people around him."

"The idea behind the show is that this is an ultimate insider community where everyone is trying to keep up with the Joneses, and yet all of the major characters feel like outsiders in some way," Schwartz explains. "It's told from the point of view of Sandy, Peter Gallagher's character - who is an outsider, because he doesn't come from this community - and Ryan, this kid he brings into this world from the outside."

A Rhode Island native, Schwartz combines that outsider's perspective with the insider's insights he gained while he was a student at the University of Southern California.

"A lot of these Newport kids are bred to attend USC, and their world is fascinating to me," Schwartz says. "In its own way, this is Cheever country, but it's on the West Coast. You find the same issues percolating here that you find in short stories by John Cheever or John Updike or Philip Roth - just everyone is a lot healthier-looking and it's a lot, uh, warmer," he adds, laughing.

Ryan's new world throws him into close contact with Sandy's own teenage son, Seth (Adam Brody, "Gilmore Girls"), a puppylike nerd who immediately bonds with Ryan, and radiant girl-next-door Marissa Cooper (Mischa Barton, "Once and Again"), who drinks a lot. Make that "a whole lot."

Each of these three teens comes from a distinct world of his or her own, yet by the time the first episode is over, Ryan, Marissa and Seth all seem to be at least subconsciously aware of the latent bond they share.

Thanks in part to shrewd casting, this trio is quirky and unpredictable enough to reward repeat visits to "The O.C." Brody deftly walks a fine line that allows Seth to be both hilariously dorky yet somehow endearing, while Barton has been crowned by several magazines as the TV season's new "It" girl even before the Fox series premieres.

Benjamin McKenzie plays a kid from the wrong side of the tracks who winds up among the well-heeled of Newport Beach, Calif., in the Fox drama "The O.C.," which debuts Tuesday.

"Mischa was already on our radar, because she already has done great work," Schwartz says. "Marissa has to be the kind of extraordinary girl who would make Ryan realize he has stumbled into a different world the minute he sees her, and Mischa has that quality, plus a lot of authenticity and sweetness. She's also only 17 in real life, so everything she does looks and feels very real."

"I think we got really lucky. I think we wound up with a young Russell Crowe, a young Tom Hanks and a young Audrey Hepburn with these three kids. Each one just brings such a reality to the role."

Roseanne gets real in new, unscripted ABC series

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

With Roseanne Barr, what you saw always was what you got.

If possible, that's more the case as cameras and microphones follow the Emmy-winning, famously candid comedian through her daily life in the unscripted ABC series "The Real Roseanne Show," premiering Wednesday, Aug. 6.

Co-produced by documentarian R.J. Cutler ("American High"), it focuses on the creation of another show: "Domestic Goddess," a lifestyle and cooking series that Barr will host on ABC Family, starting Sept. 20. In "The Real Roseanne Show," viewers will see staff hirings and firings as "Domestic Goddess" goes through various incarnations en route to the final product that will air.

As with any reality project, "The Real Roseanne Show" is multifaceted. Barr confers in her bed with a "Domestic Goddess" producer, but she also has an emotional meeting with the daughter she gave up for adoption. Among others captured by the cameras: Jake and Jeff, Barr's son and son-in-law; her first husband, Bill Pentland, and his current wife; Barr's makeup artist and ultimate confidante, Shannon; former "Roseanne" co-star John Goodman; and Conan O'Brien and Jimmy Kimmel, who both recently had Barr on their talk shows.

"This all began," Barr explains, "when I was doing my talk show ('The Roseanne Show,' 1998-2000), and saw how different things have become behind and in front of the camera. I started thinking that the making of the show was far more interesting than the show itself."

Barr's interest in cyberspace also inspired "The Real Roseanne Show." She says, "We did a version on this on my Web site, sort of a worldwide call-in thing. It was exciting and the people were great, and that also inspired the idea of showing how a show gets put together. You get to see the many permutations 'Domestic Goddess' has gone through. There have been so many changes, it's unbelievable. It's on its ninth configuration, I think, but that's what happens in show business."

Though ABC Family uses the word "cooking" in describing "Domestic Goddess," Barr maintains, "It's an eating show rather than a cooking show. I'm just a really good eater; I know everything about it, and I thought that if I was going to go back to TV, I'd want to do something I enjoyed. I'm doing the cooking on the show myself. I'm a good cook, but in the end, it's all about free food. That's all I give a damn about."

Since she produced her sitcom "Roseanne" as well as "The Jackie Thomas Show" - which starred her then-husband, Tom Arnold - Barr was versed in the ins and outs of making a series before starting "The Real Roseanne Show." She describes the process as "coming up with the idea, taking it to agents to sell it, going to all the networks to try to get somebody to buy it ... it's all real insider stuff that the audience will get to see. It's frustrating to see your idea get changed and dropped and ruined. It's a miracle that anything good ever gets on."

A nine-year ABC run (1988-97) confirms that her series "Roseanne," still seen in weekday TBS repeats, was considered good television by many viewers. "They loved that show, and I'm really grateful that they still love it," Barr acknowledges. "All the time, I get people telling me they remember that show fondly. I just want to be able to keep doing things that excite me."

Roseanne Barr enters the unscripted-series arena by allowing cameras and microphones to capture her daily life as she prepares for her upcoming cooking series, "Domestic Goddess," in the documentary-styled "The Real Roseanne Show," premiering Wednesday on ABC.

Allen, Stram top list headed into Pro Football Hall of Fame

By George Dickie
 © Zap2it

This week, two legends who were arguably the greatest at what they did will take their places alongside football's immortals.

Marcus Allen, the all-purpose running back who is the first player in NFL history to rush for over 10,000 yards and tally over 5,000 more as a receiver, and Hank Stram, the all-time winningest coach in the history of the American Football League, will be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Sunday, Aug. 3.

Also going in that day are James Lofton, the speedy receiver who logged 14,004 yards over a 16-year career; Elvin Bethea, the standout defensive end for the Houston Oilers; and Joe DeLamielleure, the guard who was one of the reasons for O.J. Simpson's success with the 1970s Buffalo Bills.

Mark Malone, who will host ESPN's coverage of the induction ceremonies with Chris Berman and Tom Jackson, has a personal link to one of the inductees. He grew up in the San Diego area and set many records as a quarterback in high school (later going on to Arizona State and three NFL teams), which were later broken by Allen. "If I remember correctly, their quarterback got hurt," Malone says. "He was the star tailback that they moved to quarterback, which allowed him to both throw the ball and run the ball. I think he threw for over 1,000 yards and rushed for over 1,000 yards.

And obviously, he's one of the best all-around running backs to ever play in the National Football League.

"He did it all," Malone continues. "When you run a guy in there on third down to catch a ball out of the backfield, Marcus was as good as anybody coming out of the backfield. He ran great routes, was durable, had great hands, was a hard runner on first and second down, and was as good a touchdown runner inside the 10-yard line as probably any who has played the game."

Stram won three AFL championships as coach of the Dallas Texans/Kansas City Chiefs, including the final AFL/NFL Super Bowl, in 1970 against the Minnesota Vikings. He was also considered an innovator, devising the moving pocket, which exploited the talents of his quarterback, Len Dawson, and the two-tight-end offense, a scheme still in use today. "What he did in Kansas City with the Chiefs was not only great for the Chiefs organization, but (for) the AFL," Malone says. "You watch those old NFL Films pieces, and he's talking about matriculating it down the field, and he's always been one of the most impeccably dressed guys who have ever coached on the sidelines, certainly. And he obviously put a tremendous team together there in Kansas City."

Lofton, who played for five teams from 1978 to 1993, was a track star who made the successful transition to football. "A lot of times, guys who have track backgrounds kind of struggle in the NFL (with injuries)," Malone says, "but he was a guy who always kept himself in very good shape, and was a guy who had great speed. You had to respect him when you played him. ... Did he get the kind of recognition that some of the players get today? Probably not. It may or may not have to do with the teams he was with. It probably had to do, too, with the era of football. I mean, the ball's thrown around a lot more today than it was back then, and for that reason I'm sure his notoriety probably suffered a little bit."

Of DeLamielleure, who made his name as a member of the Bills' "Electric Company," blocking for Simpson during his 2,003-yard season of 1973, Malone says, "When you go back to that era of football, if a guy's going to rush for 2,000 yards, he's obviously a special talent. But you've got to give a guy like O.J. the (chance) to put up those kinds of numbers, and that all happens at the line of scrimmage. Joe DeLamielleure was kind of the leading edge of that offensive line."

Bethea was known as a leader - both on the field and off - who did not miss a game for nearly 10 years. "When you go back and you look at the kind of football Elvin played," Malone says, "(he was) a big, strong guy that probably went unnoticed to a great extent. He's not a skill player in the sense he's catching a lot of balls or rushing for 1,000 yards. But when you go back to that era of football, there was nobody tougher than Elvin Bethea."

"NASCAR Winston Cup Brickyard 400" Sunday, Aug. 3 (NBC, 2:30 p.m. ET): Never say never, but Bill Elliott's 43rd career NASCAR victory could end up being his crowning achievement. It occurred a year ago in the Brickyard 400 at, of all places, Indianapolis Motor Speedway, a track whose history is built on open-wheel racing. Prior to last season, the 47-year-old Elliott had entered the winner's circle just once in a seven-year span, so the legend's time in the sun may be waning.

"Tennis Masters Canada" Begins Monday, Aug. 4 (ESPN, 1 p.m. ET): The ATP's top 52 players converge on Montreal for the start of the Tennis Masters Series Canada. Held on the hard-court surface of du Maurier Stadium, the event is a key stop in this year's championships race, which determines the world's top-ranked player. Among those looking to unseat defending champ Guillermo Canas are Andre Agassi, Lleyton Hewitt, Roger Federer and Andy Roddick, who lost to Canas in the 2002 final.

"New York Giants at New England Patriots" Thursday, Aug. 7 (ESPN, 8 p.m. ET): The last time we saw the New York Giants, they were fumbling away a sure win in the playoffs with shoddy execution on special teams. So, as they embark on their preseason opener tonight against New England, the G-men hope their revamped kicking game - punter Jeff Feagles, kicker Mike Hollis and long snapper Ryan Kuehl - will save them rather than bury them this season. Also, new return man Brian Mitchell will no doubt help New York's offense.

Questions:

- 1) In what year did the Pro Football Hall of Fame hold its first induction?
- 2) What college/university has the most inductees?
- 3) What position is the most honored in Hall history?

- 4) What is the standard waiting period for enshrinement?
- 5) Who need not be retired in order to be inducted?
- 6) What franchise has the most players in the Hall?
- 7) There are three inductees who spent time in the USFL. Can you name them?

Answers:

- 1) 1963.
- 2) Notre Dame and USC each have 10 alumni enshrined.

- 3) There are 44 offensive linemen in the Hall.
- 4) Five years for players. There is no mandatory wait for a coach, although he must be officially retired.
- 5) Those whose major contributions came in areas other than playing or coaching (i.e. owner, league commissioner).
- 6) Thirty-one members have spent all or part of their careers with the Chicago Bears.
- 7) Jim Kelly, George Allen and Marv Levy.

Sunday Best Bets

6 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Paulie

A wisecracking parrot has a series of wild adventures as he travels from New Jersey to California in search of his young owner in this touching 1998 comedy adventure. He winds up in a research lab, where he tells his story in flashbacks to a sympathetic Russian janitor (Tony Shalhoub, "Monk").

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Alias

Family strife abounds in "Truth Takes Time." Sydney and Irina (Jennifer Garner, Lena Olin) have an intense confrontation, while Emily Sloane (guest star Amy Irving) has to make a big decision about her husband (Ron Rifkin), the former chief of SD-6, and the questionable course of action he has been taking lately.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

In "Cold Comfort," Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) investigate the fatal slashing of the daughter of a recently deceased senator. They discover the woman's wish to have her father's body cryogenically frozen, and also learn that the politician's son is not his biological child.

8 p.m. on HBO

Sex and the City

Distraught over Berger (Ron Livingston), Carrie (Sarah Jessica Parker) tries to forget her woes for a night — and gets more than she bargained for — by checking out a club in the new episode "The Post-It Always Sticks Twice." Charlotte (Kristin Davis) clings to the belief that there's a reason behind everything.

Sam Jones III

8:30 p.m. on HBO

The Wire

Bodie's (J.D. Williams) idea to boost sales takes an unexpected course in the new episode "Stray Rounds." The Greeks inspire a scheme devised by Ziggy (James Ransone). McNulty (Dominic West) tries to keep his cover intact while waiting for others to arrive at the brothel.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

The Practice

Politics play into Eugene and Jimmy's (Steve Harris, Michael Badalucco) defense of a youthful drug dealer (guest star Sam Jones III, "Smallville") accused of murder in "Capitol Crimes." Lindsay (Kelli Williams) remains on edge about Bobby's (Dylan McDermott) renewed involvement with ex-girlfriend Sarah Barker (guest star Teri Polo, "Meet the Parents").

All My Children

After Greenlee read Mary's letter and learned that Jack is her father, she interrupted the wedding and announced her shocking news. Mary defended her actions by saying that Erica blackmailed her into keeping silent, and Jack refused to continue with the wedding. A furious Greenlee then took out her anger on Roger by attacking his headstone, while Jack got confirmation that Greenlee was his blood donor. Anna was thrown when David suddenly asked her to marry him. Bianca admitted to Maggie that Michael raped her but pleaded with Maggie not to tell. Mia suggested teaming up with Simone to win the bet. Coming: Jack searches for an out-of-control Greenlee.

As the World Turns

Rick was affected by visions of Bob during the ceremony, but still married Susan. Later, Rick drugged Susan's drink to make her sleep, as he headed out to make Emily believe in him. Bonnie lifted Marshall's toothbrush to get DNA evidence for the test that could link him to Sarah. Learning that Isaac is selling Java, Dusty saw the coffeehouse as a place where he could put down roots for Rose. Meanwhile, Paul backed out of a chance to tell Rose that he loves her and she wrote him off for good. Coming: Katie and Mike embark on their trip.

Bold and Beautiful

Deacon pressed Macy to marry him and she agreed after Sally offered support for the engagement. Amber was terrified by the news, fearing that they intend to pursue custody of Eric and Hope, and begged Thorne to stop them. Thorne challenged Macy to declare that she no longer has any feelings for him. Stephanie arranged for Nick and Brooke to be stranded on an island together, during which Brooke revealed that she loves Nick. When Ridge discovered what Stephanie did, he asked Brooke for a commitment to be with him only. Coming: Macy is torn by conflicting emotions.

Days of Our Lives

Sami dropped the bomb on Cassie by revealing that Tony and Marlena are not her biological parents and that Roman is her father. Sami warned Cassie and Rex that she'll keep the news to herself as long as they don't take advantage of Tony, then hinted to Lucas that she has something on the twins that could be useful to him. Mimi couldn't handle Rex's desperate need to be a DiMera and broke up with him. Philip watched Shawn kissing Belle and imagined that it was he in Shawn's place. Coming: Rex issues a warning to Sami.

General Hospital

Courtney learned that she's pregnant, only to be floored when an unaware Jason said that it's best that he doesn't have a child of his own right now. Skye had Alexis arrested and Cameron refused to help her. Sonny and Jason prepared to rescue Carly from the yacht, but found a bomb instead. Meanwhile, Carly went into premature labor while on Alcazar's yacht. Devastated to learn that Emily turned down his proposal because of her feelings for Nikolas, Zander ended things between them and kissed

Soap Synopsis

Gia, which led to lovemaking. Coming: Alexis makes a confession to Cameron.

Guiding Light

With a SWAT team closing in, Ben's love for Marina proved stronger than his rage and he let her go, but turned the deadly injection on himself. Before he died, Ben confessed, enabling Jeffrey to close the case. Alone with Eden, Salerno made it clear that she's in his debt. Back in Springfield, Eden had to decide if she could begin again with Bill, while Marah sensed a gulf between herself and Tony. Jeffrey warned Darci that her past with Salerno would catch up with her. Coming: Marina is affected by her recent trauma. One Life to Live When Nora injured herself attempting to escape from Troy, his good side won and he rushed her to the hospital. Coming: Joey pays a price for loving Jen.

Passions

Miguel and Kay learned bad news about their baby. Tabitha, who just delivered her own demon child, told Kay that she must turn to good in order to save her baby. Luis appeared to accept the DVD as real in which Sheridan states that she's fine and is in Paris. As Luis tended to some repair work at Beth's, she frantically tried hiding the pit so Luis wouldn't see it. Coming: Kay suffers a grievous loss.

Port Charles

Chris made a breakthrough in his research on the formula that would take away Ian's immortality, but had to convince Ian to wait until they test it further. Christina found Caleb's ring and was surprised when she got her wish that Lucy and Kevin would kiss. Caleb revealed to Lizzie that he's going to use his music to lure the person who has his ring to return it, and that person will die. Coming: Chris comes to Elizabeth's rescue.

Young and Restless

Victor got steamed at Michael when he was unable to bribe Lauren, and told him he had arranged meetings with several national retailers. When an overwhelmed Michael quit, Victor warned that he knows of Michael's involvement in Isabella's murder case. Chris was plagued by frightening dreams of Isabella, then found Isabella's bloody scarf in her car. Jill informed Mitchell Sherman that she wants to have Kay declared mentally incompetent. Bobby realized that Raul is Brittany's boyfriend and invited him to a night out at Marsino's. Nick accused Nikki of preventing family healing. Coming: Lily takes another risky chance.

Natalia Livingston leads by example

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

When she won the role of Emily Quartermaine on ABC's "General Hospital," Natalia Livingston had no idea how close to home her story line would hit. A few weeks after joining the daytime drama, the actress was thrust into a front-burner plot about breast cancer.

"I'd been watching this television show about how important it was for young women to do self-breast exams," Livingston says. "They tried to make women understand that breast cancer isn't just for older women. I took their advice and did an exam. I found a lump and ended up at the hospital. It wasn't cancerous, but through the whole process I learned so much."

Move ahead one year, and Livingston is in a position to help millions of women across the nation with a story line that spotlights breast cancer survival in younger women.

"I don't think we're trying to send a message, but we do want people to be aware," Livingston explains. "It leads to some very dramatic storytelling for my character because she's suffered such trauma at such a young age."

When Amber Tamblyn, who originated the role of Emily, couldn't return to the daytime drama, Livingston stepped in. She quickly made the character her own, but there are some similarities to how both actresses played the role.

"Emily's a strong character and she's always been very independent," Livingston says. "She's caring, puts her family first, and she doesn't like the fact that they have to go through all of this. That's why she's pushing her boyfriend away and trying to make him jealous. She doesn't want to die and leave him alone."

The Macon, Ga., native was discovered when she worked at a Home Depot in Los Angeles. While helping a customer plan his landscaping, they talked about her desire to act.

"I basically helped him landscape his front yard, and helped him pick out roses and shrubs and the kind of soil he needed to use," Livingston says. "I'm not sure about his yard now, but things are great for me."

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE™ by David L. Hoyt

Use the clues to help unscramble the four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four words.

REYRJ Clue: G.C.'s buddy

GIMCA Clue: W.D.'s kingdom

TNUCYOR Clue: R.C. and B.O.'s style

CEVEIONL Clue: Commonly seen on TV

Bonus

Answers to 7/27/2003 Jumbles: BUNKER BEAVER EPISODE BLOSSOM
Bonus: This TV sitcom star shares his last name with a U.S. city.
BOB DENVER (Gilligan)

You can e-mail David L. Hoyt at DLHoyt@aol.com.

I liked him on that sketch comedy show.
He played some very colorful characters.

Bonus Clue: When he was 10, this comedic actor mailed his résumé to "The Carol Burnett Show."

Then arrange the circled letters to form the bonus answer, as suggested by the above cartoon and bonus clue.

NFL Preseason Football
The Packers and Chiefs, two franchises boasting plenty of legendary alumni, battle in the Hall of Fame Game from Canton, Ohio, kicking off the 34th season of "Monday Night Football." Green Bay's hopes again rest on the right arm of quarterback Brett Favre, a future Hall of Famer in his own right. Kansas City, meanwhile, made plenty of defensive changes in the offseason. ABC also made a change: sideline reporter Lisa Guerrero replaces Melissa Stark.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS
History Detectives
Texas is the setting of the true-life mysteries probed in this episode of the new miniseries. An old railroad station situated in the middle of Dallas may have been the state's first depot; the show's authentication experts try to confirm or disprove it. Foreign money makes a San Antonio man wonder if an ancestor had ties to Mexican bandit Pancho Villa. In Texas City, a spyglass may have belonged to pirate Jean Lafitte.

7 p.m. on BRAV
Movie: Ghosts of Mississippi
The accused killer of civil rights activist Medgar Evers, Byron De La Beckwith was tried twice in 1964 for the murder. Despite evidence implicating him, De La Beckwith was set free both times by hung juries. This 1996 drama chronicles his final trial in 1994, with Alec Baldwin as the liberal white prosecutor of the case. James Woods portrays De La Beckwith as an over-the-top bigot. Whoopi Goldberg shines as Evers' widow.

Monday Best Bets

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
American Experience
Actor Peter Coyote voices the words of explorer John Wesley Powell in "Lost in the Grand Canyon." In 1869, Powell led an expedition into the last great uncharted territory in the continental United States. This hour chronicles the pain and peril of that 99-day journey, from which three men never returned. Powell did and was hailed as a hero — until his position on Western settlement made him some powerful enemies.

8 p.m. on USA
JAG
This rare showing of the adventure series' "Pilot" recalls how viewers first got to know Lt. Harmon Rabb (David James Elliott), an aviator-turned-lawyer. A judge advocate general for the U.S. Navy, he probes a murder on an aircraft carrier. Don't look for current co-star Catherine Bell, since Tracey Needham (now a regular in "The Division") was the female lead when the show began.

8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS
King of Queens
Doug (Kevin James) gets caught in a lie while trying to weasel out of attending an opera performance in "Cowardly Lyin'." As a result, he and Carrie (Leah Remini) are inspired to follow the pattern of honesty practiced by Spence and his girlfriend (Patton Oswalt, Rachel Dratch). Carrie then has an unexpected impact on the other couple's relationship.

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC 8 Simple Rules for Dating My Teenage Daughter

Unhappy about police intervention in a party attended by Bridget and Kerry (Kaley Cuoco, Amy Davidson), Paul (John Ritter) gets himself enlisted to oversee the next party in "Cool Parent." The second bash doesn't go much smoother when Paul falls asleep, giving the kids their cue to run amok. They think Paul is great, but their parents hardly share their opinion.

Last Comic Standing

After nearly two months of this competition, exactly who is the funniest person vying for the championship? The answer will be given in this season finale, as host and co-producer Jay Mohr identifies the person who will land an exclusive talent contract with NBC. With that prize on the line, the finalists will be aiming to "kill" — as they say in the trade — while doing their respective acts.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

Nova

The crisis faced yearly by those who fight out-of-control blazes in the American West are considered in the two-hour installment "Fire Wars." With acres upon acres of land and homes threatened, those skilled in fighting such fires take action. The piece profiles a group known as the Arrowhead Hotshots, challenged by fires for nearly two months straight in the summer of 2000.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: The Natural

Fans of the Bernard Malamud novel were upset by the revision of the ending, but director Barry Levinson's 1984 drama works perfectly as a vehicle for Robert Redford. He stars as a baseball player whose first stab at the big leagues is ended by his encounter with a beautiful woman (Barbara Hershey). Years later, he resurfaces to play for a professional team. Glenn Close, Kim Basinger and Wilford Brimley co-star.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The O.C.

The posh atmosphere of Orange County, Calif., becomes the new home of a troubled teenager (Benjamin McKenzie) who is taken in by a public defender (Peter Gallagher, "American Beauty") in the premiere of this drama series. The youth's presence sets off a chain of changes for various people, including an attractive young neighbor (Mischa Barton) and her father (Tate Donovan). Kelly Rowan also stars.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

The abduction and murder of an alleged rape victim who was hospitalized sets Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) on the trail of the perpetrators in "Soulless." The chief suspects are young socialites who may have killed just for a thrill. Benson is haunted by the case, believing she could have saved the victim.

9 p.m. on 19-PBS

P.O.V.

The hula long has been an internationally famous dance, but nowhere does it continue to have a stronger pull than in its birthplace, the islands of Hawaii. The new documentary "American Aloha: Hula Beyond Hawaii" details the cultural history that the dance represents — along with the associated garments and language — as three instructors demonstrate different permutations through which the hula has gone over the years.

Wednesday Best Bets

6 p.m. on HBO

Movie: The Glass House

In this 2001 psychological thriller, Leelee Sobieski ("Joan of Arc") plays a suddenly orphaned teenager taken in — along with her brother (Trevor Morgan) — by a supposedly caring couple (Diane Lane, Stellan Skarsgard) she has known for years. Rigid house rules and strange behavior make the young woman start to wonder about the true characters of her supposed benefactors. Bruce Dern co-stars.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The 2003 Teen Choice Awards

Whatever the results turn out to be, women named Jennifer will not be in short supply during this ceremony. Ms. Aniston, Ms. Garner and Ms. Lopez are multiple nominees in the fifth annual event revealing young fans' choices for favorites in film, television, music and sports. The categories include such unusual contests as "Choice Hissy Fit" and "Choice Liar." David Spade ("Just Shoot Me") serves as host.

7 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Old Yeller

One of the greatest stories ever told of a boy and his dog, this 1957 Disney classic is based on the novel by Fred Gipson, who adapted his tale for the screen. In 1860s Texas, young Travis Coates (Tommy Kirk) gets help from an uninvited canine guest in protecting the rest of his family while his father (Fess Parker) is on a cattle drive. The youngster and the animal develop a tight bond. Dorothy McGuire and Chuck Connors also star.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The West Wing

A developing situation on the international front wreaks havoc on the president's (Martin Sheen) inaugural address in Part 1 of "Inauguration." The problems in a distant country put cabinet members at odds with Pentagon officials. A member of the White House staff takes action seen by the others as a potentially irreversible breach of trust.

8:55 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Von Ryan's Express

Although he also made other types of films, Frank Sinatra was well-suited to war stories, and director Mark Robson's 1965 drama holds up as a solid example. The actor plays a U.S. colonel shot down in Italy and taken into custody by occupying Germans. He mounts an escape attempt for himself and his primarily British fellow captives, though they find it hard to trust him. Trevor Howard and a young James Brolin co-star.

The Family

Now that viewers are caught up — or so ABC hopes, having aired a refresher special last week — the million-dollar competition among relatives resumes in earnest at a Palm Beach, Fla., mansion. There's a touch of "The Price Is Right" to this new episode, since guessing the correct cost of some high-end items could better the situations of certain players. George Hamilton is the host.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

The murder of a female executive seems to be an open-and-shut case in "Seer," with Briscoe and Green (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin) tracking the crime to a young man living close to the crime scene. He seems to know a lot about the killing, but he maintains the details came to him psychically, setting up a big challenge for McCoy and Southern (Sam Waterston, Elisabeth Rohm) in court.

Thursday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Movie: House on Haunted Hill

The 1958 horror classic gets an update in this 1999 version from producer Joel Silver ("Lethal Weapon," "Die Hard"). Geoffrey Rush plays a tycoon who throws a birthday party for his wife (Famke Janssen, "X-Men") in an abandoned asylum, with five strangers in attendance. Whoever lasts the night will get $1 million — but that isn't an easy proposition. Taye Diggs and Peter Gallagher co-star.

7 p.m. on USA

Movie: Apollo 13

Tom Hanks stars as Cmdr. Jim Lovell in director Ron Howard's 1995 hit about the near-disastrous 1970 Apollo 13 mission. Headed for the moon, Lovell and his crew, Fred Haise and Jack Swigert (Bill Paxton, Kevin Bacon), experience an on-board explosion. On the ground, their colleagues scramble for a solution as the world holds its breath. Gary Sinise and Ed Harris also star. Jim Lovell has a cameo as captain of USS Iwo Jima.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

Grace (Debra Messing) is inadvertently free with her language when she meets supposed friends of Leo (Harry Connick Jr.) in "The Needle and Omelet's Done." They're actually his parents, and Grace later fears that the attitude she displayed with them may jinx her romance. Jack (Sean Hayes) has another showdown with his no-nonsense acting teacher (guest star Eileen Brennan) during a class.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

ER

Dr. Carter (Noah Wyle) returns to find Abby (Maura Tierney) distraught over her mother (guest star Sally Field) and her missing brother in "A Boy Falling Out of the Sky." Dr. Weaver (Laura Innes) has it out with the man who robbed her, and Dr. Pratt (Mekhi Phifer) takes to the streets of Chicago to assist paramedics. Dr. Kovac (Goran Visnjic) treats a teenager who overdosed.

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 54-UPN

Movie: Diamonds Are Forever

Until he made 1983's aptly titled "Never Say Never Again," Sean Connery vowed that this entertaining, fast-moving 1971 caper would mark his last appearance as James Bond. Here, Agent 007 tracks an international gem-smuggling ring from Amsterdam to Las Vegas. Jill St. John, Lana Wood and Jimmy Dean co-star. Charles Gray plays Bond's arch-enemy Blofeld.

7 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Trespass

Dollar signs dance in the eyes of two firefighters (Bill Paxton, William Sadler) who learn that a fortune in gold may be buried under a burned-out factory. But, the treasure hunters become the hunted when they witness a gangland murder and wind up in a standoff with the gangsters. Rappers Ice-T and Ice Cube also star in this nail-biting 1992 urban thriller.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: Absolute Power

Clint Eastwood is director and star of this 1997 tale of politics, sex and murder. He plays Luther Whitney, a thief who breaks into a house and inadvertently witnesses some high-level hanky-panky. The lady of the house (Melora Hardin) is the mistress of the president of the United States.

(Gene Hackman). She's brought down by a pair of overzealous Secret Service agents, but it may be Luther who takes the fall.

Scott Lawrence

7 p.m. and TNT

Movie: Jerry Maguire

Tom Cruise stars as a high-powered sports agent who has a crisis of conscience in this 1996 Oscar nominee for best picture. After losing his job for speaking his mind, he decides to start his own business with the help of an attractive co-worker, played by Renee Zellweger. Cuba Gooding Jr.'s inspired performance won him the best supporting actor statue. Kelly Preston and Jerry O'Connell also star.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

JAG

The heroism of a petty officer (guest star Bruce Ramsay) creates problems for him in "Second Acts." When his act of bravery is shown on television, a viewer identifies him as someone who supposedly died in the 9/11 attack on the World Trade Center. Harm and Turner (David James Elliott, Scott Lawrence) probe why the man maintained a fake identity. A negative report on JAG threatens Adm. Chegwidden (John M. Jackson) and others.

Saturday Best Bets

3:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

AVP Volleyball

Manhattan Beach in California long has been synonymous with top-level beach volleyball, so it's fitting NBC begins its live coverage of the AVP Tour season with the Manhattan Beach Open. The women's final is on tap today, marking the first time the female players have been featured on the network. Last year, Annett Davis and Jenny Johnson Jordan defeated the top-seeded team of Holly McPeak and Elaine Youngs.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Boys and Girls

Freddie Prinze Jr. continued his reign over the youth-oriented romantic-comedy genre with this 2000 tale of college friends who continually fall short of intimate involvement with each other. Claire Forlani ("Meet Joe Black") plays the woman in question, who seeks male buddy Prinze's input on her love interests. Jason Biggs, Amanda Detmer ("A.U.S.A.") and Heather Donahue ("The Blair Witch Project") co-star.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: The American President

Michael Douglas is a charmer in the role of the recently widowed president of the United States. Throwing political caution to the wind, he pursues a sexy lobbyist (Annette Bening), despite the effect his actions might have on his upcoming re-election campaign. The 1995 comedy-drama co-stars Martin Sheen, who later would be "elected" president in "The West Wing," created by Aaron Sorkin, this film's writer.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Forever Young

A 1930s test pilot (Mel Gibson) volunteers to be frozen in a cryogenic experiment led by his best friend (George Wendt) after his true love (Isabel Glasser) is injured in a car accident. Something goes awry and he wakes up 50 years later, forgotten and locked away in an Army warehouse. Helped by a divorced nurse and her son (Jamie Lee Curtis, Elijah Wood), he tries to recover his past in this 1992 drama.

7 p.m. on HBO

Tracey Ullman in the Trailer Tales

One of HBO's favorite comedy stars returns to the channel with this new special, as she revisits characters that were staples of her "Tracey Takes On..." series. The main one is Ruby Romaine, a Hollywood makeup artist who discusses how she almost retired — and why she didn't. The premise lets the multitasking Ullman again tackle many roles. Guest stars include Debbie Reynolds, Jane Kaczmarek ("Malcolm in the Middle") and Cheech Marin.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Movie: Hunter: Return to Justice

Fred Dryer reprises the role of Los Angeles police Detective Rick Hunter in this 2002 TV movie based on the hit 1980s series. A visit to former partner Dee Dee McCall (Stephanie Kramer) leads him into a new mystery when her engagement party is ruined by the slaying of an intruder. Rick uncovers facts about McCall's fiancé (Sam Henning), a candidate for mayor of San Diego, that she would rather not know. Peter Lucas also stars.

Goldie Hawn and Susan Sarandon are teamed in this 2002 comedy about the reunion of two former rock groupies. Hawn's character remains emotionally stuck in the 1960s, while Sarandon's alter ego has remade herself completely into a wife and mother — whose family has no inkling of the much wilder life she used to lead. Co-stars include Geoffrey Rush and Sarandon's daughter, Eva Amurri.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Dragnet

Friday (Ed O'Neill) gets a temporary partner (guest star Lauren Velez, "New York Undercover") while Smith (Ethan Embry) cares for his ailing father in "Redemption." The police detectives try to determine whether the death of a business consultant was a suicide. They have their doubts when they discover the deceased woman's other, very secret life. William Russ ("Boy Meets World") also guest stars.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"BRINGING DOWN THE HOUSE": A divorced lawyer, played by Steve Martin, gets much more than he bargained for when he arranges a face-to-face meeting with his online pen pal in this often riotous comedy. His contact turns out to be a bawdy escaped convict (Queen Latifah, "Chicago") who wreaks havoc on the attorney's carefully ordered world. Co-stars include Eugene Levy, Joan Plowright, Jean Smart and Betty White. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by director Adam Shankman and screenwriter Jason Filardi; "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes and outtakes; Queen Latifah music video. *** (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"AGENT CODY BANKS": A youngster (Frankie Muniz, "Malcolm in the Middle") who isn't exactly girl-savvy gets to play James Bond in this enjoyable adventure-comedy. He secretly works for the CIA, and he's assigned to get close to an attractive peer (Hilary Duff, "Lizzie McGuire"), whose father (Martin Donovan) is a scientist unwittingly in league with some major villains. Angie Harmon ("Law & Order") is a stunning co-star as Cody's mentor in espionage. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentaries by Muniz, Harmon and director Harald Zwart, and by screenwriter Ashley Edward

Miller; preview of "Agent Cody Banks 2"; "making-of" featurettes; deleted scenes and outtakes; multiple-angle scenes; storyboard-to-film comparisons. *** (PG: P, V)

WHAT A GIRL WANTS: Popular TV teen Amanda Bynes ("What I Like About You") gives this familiar-feeling comedy-drama a welcome injection of her personality. She plays a Yank in England, where she seeks the father she has never known, a political hopeful portrayed by Colin Firth. ("Bridget Jones's Diary"). Predictably, other members of his staid family are taken aback by her all-American ways. Jonathan Pryce and Eileen Atkins shore up the film's British contingent. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by screenwriters Jenny Bicks and Elizabeth Chandler; deleted scenes, auditions and outtakes. ** (PG: P)

"IRREVERSIBLE": The most scandalous attraction at several film festivals last year, including Cannes (where many patrons walked out on it), writer-director Gaspar Noe's intense and exceedingly violent drama - told in reverse, along the lines of "Memento" - pulls no punches in detailing the savage rape of a woman (Monica Bellucci, "The Matrix Reloaded") by a stranger. Two of her male acquaintances (Vincent Cassel, Albert Dupontel) seek vigilante justice on her behalf. DVD extra: theatrical trailer. ** (Not rated: AS, N, P, GV)

"THE OMEGA MAN": Finally available on DVD, this 1971 cult classic - based on the Richard Matheson novel "I Am Legend" - casts Charlton Heston as one of the last normal humans, following a biological war that has turned most of Earth's population into vampirish zombies. Anthony Zerbe is excellent as the leader of the light-fearing enemy race, and the film's production design expertly depicts a decaying metropolis all but deserted during the day - until the villains come out at night. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; introduction by co-screenwriter Joyce H. Corrington and co-stars Paul Koslo and Eric Laneuville; "making-of" documentary; "Charlton Heston: Science Fiction Legend" documentary. *** (PG: AS, P, V)

"THE SURE THING": Another cult favorite making its DVD debut, this hugely entertaining, ideally cast 1985 comedy was one of Rob Reiner's early directing projects. After college jokester Gib (John Cusack) fails to woo uptight peer Alison (Daphne Zuniga), they end up sharing a cross-country trip. She's going to California to visit her equally square boyfriend (Boyd Gaines), while Gib is on his way to a date with a "sure thing" (Nicollette Sheridan), set up for him by his best pal (Anthony Edwards). Tim Robbins is hilarious as an amateur chauffeur who loves to sing show tunes. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by Reiner; "making-of" documentaries; trivia "pop-ups." *** (PG-13: AS, P)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"CRADLE 2 THE GRAVE" (Aug. 12): The abduction of his daughter forces a professional thief (DMX) to team with a foreign intelligence agent (Jet Li) to get the demanded ransom. (R: AS, P, V)

"HEAD OF STATE" (Aug. 12): The sudden death of a presidential candidate thrusts an unlikely successor (Chris Rock) into the contest for the White House. (PG-13: AS, P)

"THE HUNTED" (Aug. 12): A former Special Forces agent turned killer (Benicio Del Toro) is tracked by the man (Tommy Lee Jones) who mentored him. (R: AS, P, GV)

On TV

Soledad O'Brien greets viewers on CNN's 'American Morning'

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

For someone with perfect elocution and delivery, job requirements for a television anchor, it is surprisingly difficult to make out what Soledad O'Brien is saying. She is whispering because everyone around her at CNN's Atlanta headquarters is working. In a few days, she will start her job as co-anchor of "American Morning."

Right now, however, she is intent on not annoying anyone. Being considerate is not the first trait one associates with journalists, especially top anchors. But O'Brien is unusual. Unusual enough that when she left NBC's "Weekend Today" at the end of June, there was a heartwarming on-air send-off.

A tape of highlights from her four years on the morning show revealed a woman willing to swing on a trapeze and scuba dive. Versatile enough to calmly deliver breaking news of February's shuttle disaster, O'Brien also displayed a goofy streak as she donned a huge Afro wig for a '70s concert.

After 15 years with NBC's affiliates, both cable and network, the 36-year-old O'Brien assumed her new job July 7, reportedly for $1 million a year, though she would not confirm her salary.

"It was all about the opportunity, and taking on something new that is exciting and challenging and interesting," O'Brien says of her CNN gig, which is located a couple of blocks away from her old studio in midtown Manhattan.

She was on air three hours a week on NBC, and is now on air three hours a day. Over the years, O'Brien repeatedly has proven herself on tough assignments, from covering the school shootings in Littleton, Colo., to announcing the death of her co-anchor, David Bloom.

"He was a terrific guy," she says. "It is so strange to me that he is gone at 39. And I know his children. His children are old enough to know what is going on. But his wife is a very strong woman and has raised tremendous kids."

Children are never far from O'Brien's mind. She and her husband, Brad Raymond, an investment banker, have two daughters, Sofia, 2 1/2, and Cecilia, 15 months.

"They are the gems of my whole life," she says. "You feel like you won the lottery every day when you have a child who is healthy."

"I know all the 'Dora the Explorer' videos and books," O'Brien continues. "And I love it because, in our neighborhood, there are a number of (Spanish-speaking) people we see every day, and I speak Spanish fairly well, but I am not completely bilingual. Part of our daily process is to say, 'buenos dias.'"

Spanish is part of O'Brien's heritage. Her mother, Estela, is a black Cuban, and her father, Edward, is an Irish-Australian. They met at Johns Hopkins University and had six children in seven years, rearing them on Long Island. "My mother always ran a tight ship," O'Brien says. "She had no help and did everything, and cooked a home-cooked meal every night."

"Both of my parents were immigrants to this country and had the idea that education was the way to succeed in this country," she says. "It was not their dream for us to go to Harvard. It was their dream for us to do whatever we chose to do."

All of the children graduated from Harvard University, where O'Brien started in pre-med. She had an internship at Boston's WBZ-TV in the special
